Air Crash Mysteries Like Jigsaw Puzzle

WASHINGTON (AP) — An airliner plunged into the Gulf of Mexico Nov. 16. Another crashed in North Carolina Jan. 6. Together they make one of the most intricate mysteries investigators have ever been asked to solve.

More pieces of this human jigsaw puzzle keep coming in all the time, but where the pieces fit and the kind of picture they make is still as baffling as ever. Here are some of the questions that haven't been answered:

1. Were the two crashes in which a total of 76 persons died caused by bombs? Even this much has not been proved. The first plane is at the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico. Of the second, the latest word is that if an explosive made it disintegrate in air, it was an uncommon kind, not like dynamite or nitroglycerine which leave telltale traces.
2. If the Gulf crash was caused by a bomb, was it planted by Robert Vernon Spears, a naturalist and an ex-convict? He was listed as a passenger on the doomed plane, but the FBI found him alive Wednesday in Phoenix, Ariz.

3. Who took Spears' place as a passenger on the Gulf plane? Was it William A. (Al) Taylor, Spears' old pal? Did Spears hypnotize him into taking the plane in his place? Spears denies it. But he has long studied hypnotism, and his wife, Frances, says she is sure someone could be so hypnotized. There is no evidence Taylor was on the plane but he hasn't been seen since the crash.
4. Can the North Carolina crash be traced to a suicide bomb? Julian A. Frank, 32, a heavily insured Westport, Conn., lawyer, has been an object of suspicion. An unproved theory is that Frank committed suicide by exploding a bomb on the plane, taking 33 others to death with him.

5. If the worst is true, was there some clandestine link between these two tragedies? There is some evidence that Spears and Frank had met, but it is not conclusive.

Bits and pieces fell into the jigsaw puzzle Friday, some seeming to fit and others merely cluttering the picture.

In Dallas, Mrs. Spears said that her husband denied to her that he had sabotaged the Gulf airliner, in which 42 died. She said she would not have taken the $100,000 from an insurance policy he carried. She said she had told Spears this when he made a secret visit to her in Dallas Jan. 7, during the period he was presumed to be dead.

Furthermore, she said, Spears took out the one-year insurance policy Sept. 2, not just before the Nov. 16 airliner crash.

In Washington, it was learned that Spears had electric tape and flashlight batteries along with dynamite blasting caps in his luggage when the FBI picked him up at a Phoenix motel. The finding of the blasting caps had been reported a couple of days ago. Earlier, a cache of dynamite had been found at the place where Spears was hiding out in Arizona.

At Charleston, S.C., Julian Frank's widow, a beautiful former model, was reported in serious condition in a private hospital. Her lawyer, Carl J. Rubino, said in New York she had a miscarriage as she was traveling to Florida by train. He said it was caused by "harassment which arose from unfounded speculation and irresponsible conjecture" about her husband's death.

At Charlotte, N.C., Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) said that he is sticking by his theory that a suicide bomb caused the Bolivia, N.C., crash. He said his information had come from Civil Aeronautics Board probes "who have worked all their lives in this field."

Monroney is chairman of the Senate aviation subcommittee.

The chief unanswered question, Monroney said, is what kind of explosive was used.

"The chemical analysis is not complete," he said, "but what's been done so far indicates that the explosive was of a low order, not nitroglycerine, black powder, or dynamite. But there are plenty of more exotic explosives that don't leave a residue."

Second Jailbreak Attempt Squelched

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department today nipped the second attempt in less than a week to break out of the local jail.

Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff today said evidence indicated that both attempts were made by the same prisoner. Involved in the plot for freedom is Thomas M. Cartwright, 36, indicted here by the grand jury for armed robbery.

Sheriff Radcliff said it was discovered last night that an old gas-type air ventilator on the second floor of the jail had been tampered with. Last Saturday a listening device connected second floor cells to the jail office was damaged.

The sheriff said Cartwright is suspected of masterminding both attempts. However, the prisoner did not admit the tries.

THE latest plot was discovered at 1:15 a. m. today by Night Jailer Marion Hoover, acting on orders from the sheriff to keep a close watch on prisoners.

The ancient ventilator, apparently used years ago as an air passage, leads to the jail basement or dungeon as it commonly is called now. The sheriff said an escapee still would have faced three locked doors if he had been able to slide through the ventilator to the basement.

Sheriff Radcliff said the basement currently is used as an interrogation room and a dark room for photography. He said three locked panels would have prevented escapees from reaching the first floor of the jail and a clear path to freedom.

The rectangular ventilator, located at the southwest corner of the jail, was covered with a metal structure. Deputy Hoover said concrete holding the cover had been removed, allowing the metal to be pulled out about two inches.

Sheriff Radcliff said a large lever used for locking individual cells inside the second floor area was found at the scene. A pen knife also was confiscated.

Deputies said it was not known how the knife was obtained. It is against jail regulations to have such articles.

Last Saturday Deputy Dwight Radcliff observed that the listening bell between the jail office and cells walls had been partly removed. Officers said a prisoner could have finished removing the bell, punched a hole in the wall and walked out when a night jailer was not on duty.

DEPUTIES said a piece of cloth had been placed in the listening bell nearest the ventilator last night. This probably was done to keep the jailer from seeing activity inside the cells and for holding down noise.

Sheriff Radcliff has cautioned his entire staff to be alert while Cartwright is in the jail. He is accused of taking part in an armed robbery at Kadel's Restaurant near Williamsport in September, 1958. His trial is slated here February 11.

He was apprehended in Flagstaff, Ariz., several months ago and returned here by Sheriff Radcliff. His trial has been postponed twice due to an effort to take a deposition from a defense witness in Arizona.

Federal Bureau of Investigation records disclosed the Cartwright has a long list of convictions. According to information at the sheriff's office, he has spent 18 of his 36 years behind bars.

The FBI report showed that Cartwright has served time in the State Reformatory at Pendleton, Ind., the Chillicothe Federal Reformatory, the penitentiary at Terre Haute, Ind., the penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga. and jails in Memphis and Nashville, Tenn.

The record also notes a term in Alcatraz, California from 1945 to 1953. Officers said he was taken to the noted institution as an incorrigible.

CHARGES include burglary, disrespect for officers while in the armed forces, absent without official leave from the service, sodomy and the current armed robbery accusation.

Cartwright originally is from Washington, D. C. Officials there said he has a long record as a juvenile.

Pike's Peak Stowaway Pays Tourist Fee

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — A Kansas man disclosed Friday he was a stowaway on an automobile trip to the summit of Pike's Peak last summer.

He said he hid in the trunk of the car to avoid paying the toll on the Peak Highway.

"Later, I began to think that wasn't the thing to do," he said in a note accompanying a check for 50 cents, the toll fee.

City officials declined to disclose his name.

Miner Jokes During Ordeal Of Mud Trap

ELY, Minn. (AP) — A hardy miner who joked through a 16-hour ordeal 1,500 feet underground was rescued uninjured Friday night after being trapped by a tide of mud in the red caverns of Pioneer Mine.

"Thanks, Howie," whispered Joseph Mishmash, 50, to his life-long friend, John "Howie" Sayovitz, the first to reach him after rescue squads drilled and blasted through a 16-foot wall of iron ore.

Sayovitz, choked with emotion, was unable to speak as Mishmash squeezed past him in the three-foot wide rescue tunnel and crawled to safety.

A mudflow at 8:30 a.m. sealed the bottom of the vertical shaft in which Mishmash was working. Rescuers reached him at 11:25 p.m.

Through his long wait Mishmash buoyed himself by bantering through a metal tube with his rescuers in the rough good humor of the underground. "They told me they might let me wait until Sunday so I couldn't go fishing on Saturday," he said. "Then they started razzing me again about what was going to happen to all that money I'm supposed to have."

Hope Revived For Rescue of 406 Miners

Fresh Air Pumped Into Area Where Africans Trapped

COALBROOK, South Africa (AP) — Word that fresh air was reaching the area where 400 Africans and 6 white coal miners entombed 600 feet below ground spurred fresh efforts today by rescue teams hacking through a wall of debris.

While teams spelled each other in a round-the-clock battle to reach the trapped men, some workers on returning to the pithead brought reports that fresh air was blowing toward the enclosed section across the mile-thick rubble barrier.

Veteran miners said that if the trapped men had not been killed in the two rock falls that sealed them underground Thursday, there was a glimmer of hope some might survive.

They expressed the belief the men would not perish from thirst or hunger. Water seeps continuously through the rock walls, and 45 horses still trapped with the men could provide food.

One miner estimated that the men could stay alive for three months.

Thirty pit ponies were brought to the surface this morning. Rescue workers said if the ponies could live in the area where the miners were trapped, so could the men if they were not smothered to death.

The horses were in an area of the mine where deadly methane gas was feared. It was not known, however, how far the trapped men were from the wrecked portion of the mine where the ponies were found.

There was little chance of reaching the men soon, however.

Gas pockets, rising water levels, and new rockfalls have threatened the rescue workers and hampered their efforts.

"We will be lucky if we break through to where the men are entombed in a week," said one rescue worker.

Unconfirmed reports said attempts would be made to pierce the thin shaft to the section where the men are trapped by drilling from the surface. A hole would ensure fresh air, food, and communications with any survivors below.

THERE IS LITTLE HOPE — Mrs. Boet Prinsloo (left) and her daughter, Anna, weep as they wait for the grim news about their husband and father, one of 406 miners trapped 600 feet beneath the Clydesdale mine in Coalbrook, South Africa. The cave-in is feared to be one of the worst mine disasters in history.

Ohio Court 'Inadequate'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's present court system is not adequate, says the Legislative Service Commission and it has assigned a study committee to find ways to better the situation.

Chairman Michael A. Sweeney (D-Cuyahoga) said the extent of the study ordered by the legislature indicated it should be continued for several years.

Creation of additional judgeships and setting uniform court procedures were remedies suggested by the commission, fact-finding arm of the General Assembly.

The commission's report read Friday said there is no way to measure whether the present court system might be able to handle Ohio's judicial business if more effectively organized. Statistics indicate, however, the report added, that the state isn't making the fullest use of its judicial manpower.

Cuyahoga County court cases were backed up for more than two years, the report indicated, although dockets were current in smaller counties.

Sweeney suggested that the solution for courts might lie with the judiciary itself rather than the Legislature. The committee will present its recommendations to the next session of the Legislature.

Chilly Florida May Warm Up

Crop Growers Say Losses To Run High

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Florida tourists found a hopeful sign Saturday. Only one city in the Sunshine State reported a below-freezing temperature.

But the state's crop growers were less hopeful. A numbing cold wave caused crop losses running to millions of dollars.

Pensacola had an early morning temperature of 31; Miami had 43. Friday an icy blast of Canadian air frosted most of northwest Florida with temperatures below freezing.

That drop into the high and mid-20s sent citrus and vegetable growers scurrying for smudge pots. Mantles of smoke hung over wide areas.

The crop loss, estimated at the multimillion dollar mark, almost certainly will go higher, observers said.

The chilling Canadian air also clutched at most of the eastern half of the country.

Below-zero temperatures occurred over the Northern Plains with 10 below common in central North Dakota and northeast South Dakota.

Mobile, Ala., with 29, was the only other Gulf of Mexico city reporting a below-freezing temperature. New Orleans, at 39, was 10 degrees warmer than 24 hours earlier.

Higher mercury marks occurred over the western portion of the country.

Preacher Parades Atrocious Gift Tie

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — A minister has found a use for those atrocious Christmas gift ties — he wears 'em.

The Rev. Charles Bretz went to a Civic Club meeting wearing a tie with an overbold colorful design. He finally was asked about the tie.

"Every year I get ties like this. Usually, I stuff them in a drawer and forget them. The other day I opened the drawer and found it filled with ties like this," he answered.

"Hiding them will do no good," he said, "so I figure wearing them might just wear down the givers."

Steel Union Votes Down Contract Offer in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) —United Steelworkers employed at Pittsburgh, Steel Co. and two other smaller western Pennsylvania steel firms have voted 4,989-2,472 to reject the companies' last contract offer.

Results of the vote—required by a Taft-Hartley injunction under which the employees at the three companies have been working—were announced by the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board in Pittsburgh Friday night.

However, the outcome of the vote is not binding and the USW is still free to strike the companies at the expiration of the injunction next Tuesday. The injunction was invoked last Nov. 7 and halted the record 116-day steel strike.

After the results of the vote were announced, Eugene Maurice, director of USW Dist. 13, said: "We are not thinking in terms of a strike. We are thinking only in terms of a fair labor contract."

He indicated the union will not strike when the injunction expires next Tuesday.

A spokesman for Pittsburgh Steel said, "We have to study these results before we have any comment."

Pittsburgh Steel, the nation's 15th largest steel producer, Mott-Rup Steel Products Co. of Beaver Falls, Pa., and the Joseph Rye-son and Son plant at Carnegie, Pa. were involved in the vote. They were among the steel companies which refused to sign when the basic steel industry and the union came to terms last Jan. 4.

Of 7,748 eligible voters at six Pittsburgh Steel plants in Monaca and Allegheny, Pa.; Akron, Mass.; and Warren, Ohio; Worcester, Mass.; and Los Angeles, 4,760 workers voted to reject the contract offer and 2,458 voted to accept it.

Workers at Millrup Steel voted 173 to 13 to reject their firm's offer. Employees at the Ryerson plant voted 51-1 against.

The basic steel industry and the USW signed a 30-month contract that included a 40-cent average hourly increase in wages and fringe benefits during the life of the pact. Steelworkers earned an average of $3.11 an hour under the old contract.

Pittsburgh Steel's contract offer is similar except that the firm wants reductions in its incentive pay scale, which it claims is higher than the industry average. The company is also seeking a 32-month contract instead of 30 months.

If U.S. Fails To Give Aid, Commies Will

Some Ohio Roads Slippery Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the world's underdeveloped peoples do not get the aid they need from the United States, they will get it from Russia or Red China, Dr. John C. Baker, president of Ohio University, asserted Friday night.

Speaking on foreign aid in the Logger's Supper" of the 57th annual convention of the Ohio Forestry Assn., Dr. Baker said American business and its technical knowledge and money, is demanded by the underdeveloped peoples of the world.

He said the basis for America's foreign aid program is not selfishness, but the tradition of revolutionary spirit which fostered the American and French revolutions and the social reforms of this century—"the spirit of liberty, equality and brotherhood." He said it is the desire to raise man to his proper human dignity.

Shortage of manpower and able leadership is one of the greatest problems facing the foreign aid program, he said. The people abroad need Americans who live their American principles to help the poor peoples of the world to advance, he said.

Before Dr. Baker delivered his address, Ohio's 1959 Forest Queen, Miss Patricia Ann Kent of New Lexington, and Ohio's 1959 Paul Bunyan, Edgar A. Thomas of Miamisburg, were introduced.

American Envoy Is Called Home For Conference

Castro Said Behind Move To Drive Out Yankee Interests

HAVANA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal flies home today to report on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's mounting anti-American campaign.

The envoy prepared to head for Washington with some observers feeling that the fiery Prime Minister wants to wreck traditional Cuban-U.S. friendship and eventually oust the United States from its key Guantanamo naval base here.

Bonsal did not spell out what he will report to the State Department, but associates said he has been convinced in the past few days that Castro himself is behind the anti-American drive and that only Castro can stop it.

The situation has reached such a stage that some Americans and Cubans have even been asking about a possible diplomatic break. Such a suggestion—which would have been deemed fantastic a few weeks ago—has been encouraged by the running propaganda barrage by Castro-supported organs against Bonsal, President Eisenhower, and the United States in general.

The Cuban government's picture of the widening rift is quite different from the one Bonsal is expected to draw for the State Department.

Castro and his aides claim the United States is responsible for the breach. They insist Washington encourages dictators and traitors and permits air raids on Cuban sugar fields. They also have accused Washington of threatening economic reprisals for Cuban government seizure of American investments.

Observers say Castro's campaign is aimed at breaking up ties between Havana and Washington in order to fit Cuba into a new international scheme. They say the plan is not Communist-directed but that it follows closely the pattern of Communist countries.

These observers say Castro wants to gain possession of nearly a billion dollars worth of American agricultural and industrial investments in Cuba, in line with the nationalization of Cuban economy.

Eventually, they say, he hopes to oust the Americans from the 45-square-mile tract that comprises the U.S. Guantanamo base.

A Castro bid for the 45-square-mile Guantanamo base would be hard to achieve. The United States has a firm international agreement for leasing the base, made perpetual by a treaty signed in Washington in 1934.

The land on the base is worth only about two million dollars. The installations are valued at more than 65 million, however, and the base is worth much more as the main U.S. training and supply center in the South Atlantic.

Some Ohio Roads Slippery Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department today gave this report on condition of the state's roads:

Primary and secondary roads are snow-covered and slippery in spots northeast of a line through Cleveland, Canton and Youngstown. Roads are slippery in spots north of a line through Bryan, Findlay, Bucyrus, Marion, Millersburg, Cadiz and St. Clairsville.

Primary and secondaries also are slippery spots in the Bellefontaine area and southwest of a line through Gallipolis, McArthur, Logan, Caldwell and Woodfield.

The balance of the state's primary roads are normal. The Ohio Turnpike is normal for travel with proper caution in driving.

U.S.-Cuban Relations Approach Crisis Stage

THIS PERSONA IS NON GRATA — Spanish Ambassador Juan Lojendio waves goodbye to an angry crowd at the Havana airport as he prepares to leave Cuba for Madrid. Premier Fidel Castro had ordered him out of the country after he tried to take over the microphone from Castro during a telecast.

American Envoy Is Called Home For Conference

Castro Said Behind Move To Drive Out, Yankee Interests

HAVANA (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Philip W. Bonsal flies home today to report on Prime Minister Fidel Castro's mounting anti-American campaign.

The envoy prepared to head for Washington with some observers feeling that the fiery Prime Minister wants to wreck traditional Cuban-U.S. friendship and eventually oust the United States from its key Guantanamo naval base here.

Bonsal did not spell out what he will report to the State Department, but associates said he has been convinced in the past few days that Castro himself is behind the anti-American drive and that only Castro can stop it.

The situation has reached such a stage that some Americans and Cubans have even been asking about a possible diplomatic break.

Such a suggestion—which would have been deemed fantastic a few weeks ago—has been encouraged by the running propaganda barrage by Castro-supported organs against Bonsal, President Eisenhower, and the United States in general.

The Cuban government's picture of the widening rift is quite different from the one Bonsal is expected to draw for the State Department.

Castro and his aides claim the United States is responsible for the breach. They insist Washington encourages dictators and traitors and permits air raids on Cuban sugar fields. They also have accused Washington of threatening economic reprisals for Cuban government seizure of American investments.

Observers say Castro's campaign is aimed at breaking up ties between Havana and Washington in order to fit Cuba into a new international scheme. They say the plan is not Communist-directed but that it follows closely the pattern of Communist countries.

These observers say Castro wants to gain possession of nearly a billion dollars worth of American agricultural and industrial investments in Cuba, in line with the nationalization of Cuban economy.

Eventually, they say, he hopes to oust the Americans from the 45-square-mile tract that comprises the U.S. Guantanamo base.

A Castro bid for the 45-square-mile Guantanamo base would be hard to achieve. The United States has a firm international agreement for leasing the base, made perpetual by a treaty signed in Washington in 1934.

The land on the base is worth only about two million dollars. The installations are valued at more than 65 million, however, and the base is worth much more as the main U.S. training and supply center in the South Atlantic.

Some Ohio Roads Slippery Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Highway Department today gave this report on condition of the state's roads:

Primary and secondary roads are snow-covered and slippery in spots northeast of a line through Cleveland, Canton and Youngstown. Roads are slippery in spots north of a line through Bryan, Findlay, Bucyrus, Marion, Millersburg, Cadiz and St. Clairsville.

Primary and secondaries also are slippery spots in the Bellefontaine area and southwest of a line through Gallipolis, McArthur, Logan, Caldwell and Woodsfield.

The balance of the state's primary roads are normal. The Ohio Turnpike is normal for travel with proper caution in driving.

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland News, an afternoon newspaper owned by Forest City Publishing Co. since 1932, has been purchased by Scripps. Howard newspapers, publishers of the Cleveland Press, it was announced today.

Today's issue of the News will be the final one. Starting Monday, this city's only afternoon newspaper will be called the Cleveland Press and News.

Chilly Florida May Warm Up

Crop Growers Say Losses To Run High

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Florida tourists found a hopeful sign Saturday. Only one city in the Sunshine State reported a below-freezing temperature.

But the state's crop growers were less hopeful. A numbing cold wave caused crop losses running to millions of dollars.

Pensacola had an early morning temperature of 31; Miami had 43. Friday an icy blast of Canadian air frosted most of northwest Florida with temperatures below freezing.

That drop into the high and mid-20s sent citrus and vegetable growers scurrying for smudge pots. Mantles of smoke hung over wide areas.

The crop loss, estimated at the multimillion dollar mark, almost certainly will go higher, observers said.

The chilling Canadian air also clutched at most of the eastern half of the country.

Below-zero temperatures occurred over the Northern Plains with 10 below common in central North Dakota and northeast South Dakota.

Mobile, Ala., with 29, was the only other Gulf of Mexico city reporting a below-freezing temperature. New Orleans, at 39, was 10 degrees warmer than 24 hours earlier.

Higher mercury marks occurred over the western portion of the country.

Preacher Parades Atrocious Gift Tie

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — A minister has found a use for those atrocious Christmas gift ties — he wears 'em.

The Rev. Charles Bretz went to a Civic Club meeting wearing a tie with an overbold colorful design. He finally was asked about the tie.

"Every year I get ties like this. Usually, I stuff them in a drawer and forget them. The other day I opened the drawer and found it filled with ties like this," he answered.

"Hiding them will do no good," he said, "so I figure wearing them might just wear down the givers."

Steel Union Votes Down Contract Offer in Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers employed at Pittsburgh Steel Co. and two other smaller western Pennsylvania steel firms have voted 4,989-2,472 to reject the companies' last contract offer.

Results of the vote—required by a Taft-Hartley injunction under which the employees at the three companies have been working—were announced by the regional office of the National Labor Relations Board in Pittsburgh Friday night.

However, the outcome of the vote is not binding and the USW is still free to strike the companies at the expiration of the injunction next Tuesday. The injunction was invoked last Nov. 7 and halted the record 116-day steel strike.

After the results of the vote were announced, Eugene Maurice, director of USW Dist. 13, said: "We are not thinking in terms of a strike. We are thinking only in terms of a fair labor contract."

Pittsburgh Steel, the nation's 15th largest steel producer, Mott-Rup Steel Products Co. of Beaver Falls, Pa., and the Joseph Ryserson and Son plant at Carnegie, Pa. were involved in the vote.

They were among the steel companies which refused to sign when the basic steel industry and the union came to terms last Jan. 4. Of 7,748 eligible voters at six Pittsburgh Steel plants in Monaca and Allenport, Pa.; Akron, Mass.; and Los Angeles, 4,760 workers voted to reject the contract offer and 2,458 voted to accept it.

Workers at Miltup Steel voted 178 to 13 to reject their firm's offer. Employees at the Ryserson plant voted 51-1 against it.

The basic steel industry and the USW signed a 30-month contract that included a 40-cent average hourly increase in wages and fringe benefits during the life of the pact. Steelworkers earned an average of $3.11 an hour under the old contract.

Pittsburgh Steel's contract offer is similar except that the firm wants reductions in its incentive pay scale, which it claims is higher than the industry average. The company is also seeking a 32-month contract instead of 30 months.

More than 17,000 workers at nine Bethlehem plants were expected to be affected by the walkout, which began Friday at Hoboken, N.J., and jumped to West Milton, N.Y., and Quincy today. Some 12,250 employees already were involved in the dispute.

A spokesman for Local 5, Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilders, said the full impact of the strike might not be felt until Monday because only skeleton forces work weekends in some areas.

He said other Bethlehem plants expected to be affected are at East Boston, Mass., Sparrows Point, Key Highway, and Baltimore, Md., and Brooklyn and Staten Island, N.Y.

The strike halted construction in Quincy on the 250-million-dollar cruiser Long Beach, the destroyer Bainbridge, and the frigate Luce. Each is nuclear-powered. Work also ceased on the cruiser Springfield, being converted into a missile carrier, and on five tankers.

Some 11,000 workers were affected in Quincy.

At Hoboken, more than 1,000 men walked out of the Bethlehem yard. In West Milton, N.Y., 250 workers struck, halting production of the prototype hull for the destroyer Bainbridge, being built at Quincy.

The union's contract with Bethlehem expired July 31. A union spokesman said the basic grievances are seniority and call-in pay. Wage increases had not been discussed, he said.

Beef Specialists On State Program

Two Representatives to Congress and two authorities on beef merchandising will address Ohio cattlemen at the annual meeting of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn., January 28. The meeting will be in the Southern Hotel in Columbus.

Plans for the meeting were announced today by James H. Warner, Ohio State University extension beef specialist and secretary-treasurer of the association.

Larry Brock, Nebraska cattleman and representative to Congress from Wakefield, Neb., will discuss "The Situation — Beef and Other Meat Imports." Walter Moeller, Lancaster, representative from the 10th Congressional District, will speak to the cattlemen at their annual banquet. He will share the speaker's stand with Dwight Wise, Fremont, first vice president of the association. Wise will show slides of European agriculture during his recent trip to Europe.

The two beef merchandising authorities who will appear on the program are Clifford G. Bowes, meat merchandiser, Columbus division, Colonial Stores, Inc. Bowes will discuss beef grades and Masterson will talk about future trends in beef merchandising.

In other program highlights, Dr. Earle Klosterman, of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, will report on research of interest to cattle feeders and Wallace Nelson, Archbold, association president, will tell how the association benefits cattlemen. Pickaway County beef producers are urged to attend this meeting.

Heat Lamps Need Not Cause Worry If Handled Properly

By George Hamrick
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

You needn't worry about heat lamps causing a fire in lamb, pig or chick brooders as long as you follow a few simple safety rules.

Infrared lamps commonly are used for electric brooding of young farm animals. Farmers should follow these safety suggestions in using heat lamps:

1. See that electrical sockets are made of porcelain — not metal or composition.

2. Use heavy duty cords with asbestos rubber covering.

3. Support the lamp by means of a wire or chain. Never use the current-carrying cord for support.

4. Place the bulb at least 18 inches above chicks, 24 inches above pigs, and 30 inches above lambs.

5. Special circuits are recommended for heat lamps. Place no more than seven bulbs on a No. 12 wire with a 20-ampere fuse.

6. Use barricades to keep large animals away from the bulbs.

Infrared lamps have become popular on many farms. They have several advantages over other sources of heat for brooding. There is no fuel to store or carry, no ashes to remove, no burners to clean. Brooders are light, easy to set up, move and store. You can regulate the amount of heat easily and can make chicks, lambs and pigs comfortable even in cool rooms.

County Cattle Feeders Plan Cincy Tour

Pickaway County cattle feeders have scheduled a tour of the Cincinnati Stockyards, a terminal market, Tuesday.

All Pickaway County farmers are invited to participate in this tour. The tour will include, upon arrival at the market, a review of how buyer quotas and prices are determined for the day. The farmers will spend time with hog and beef buyers as they make their purchases.

The stockyard officials will also explain inner-office operations to the group.

Lunch will be served to the group by the Kahn Packing Co. The afternoon portion of the tour will be spent touring the Kahn plant where livestock killing, processing, chilling and meat distribution will be viewed and discussed.

The Pickaway County group will make the trip by automobile and will leave from the Fairgrounds Coliseum at 7 a. m. Tuesday. Anyone who wishes to make the trip should notify the County Extension Office of their intentions.

Stalk Rot Damages Corn

Rotation, Treat
Seed Is Urged

By George Hamrick
County Extension Agent,
Agriculture

Stalk rot of corn was widespread in Ohio and in most other corn belt states this past season. There are at least four different fungi known to cause corn stalk rot in Ohio.

Each of them is most destructive under somewhat different conditions. Diplodia is more destructive in warmer soils to the south and Gibberella is more prevalent in cooler regions.

Stalk rot losses occur in several different ways. Ears on rotted stalks average from 15 per cent to 20 per cent less dry weight than those on healthy stalks. Because of broken stalks and weakened shanks, mechanical pickers leave up to 20 per cent of the ears on the ground in the field. These fungi are carried on and inside corn kernels and cause seed rots and seedling blights which can reduce the yield of next year's crop.

Such practices as continuous cropping to corn, use of susceptible hybrids, high plant populations, damage to the stalks and leaves by other diseases, insects, weather and soil fertility all increase the amount of stalk rot.

The following practices will reduce losses from stalk rot. Crop rotation and sanitation (plow down all corn refuse to hasten its decay and to bury the fungi causing stalk rot). Treat seed corn with thiram or captan to control seed rots and seedling blight. Plant resistant hybrids like K62, L51, C54, W64, AES 702 and AES 805.

Research by plant pathologists at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station has shown that the mineral nutrition of the plants has an effect on stalk rot. However, more information is needed before this knowledge can be applied to the field.

Advertising Pays, but Only Partially

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A classified ad in Ohio State University's campus newspaper has located a pretty, red-haired young woman who is a native of North Carolina.

But before any romantically inclined reader gets the idea that all is now peaches and cream, here's the wet blanket:

Miss Erika Schick is writing Bill Feiring of New York this message:

"I think you're nice, but a little too old for me."

Miss Schick, a junior and one of 7,016 women on campus, read Feiring's classified ad in the Lantern, the university's student daily. Feiring was searching for the OSU co-ed he met a month ago at a Broadway theater. They discussed music, got along famously, but failed to exchange names.

Feiring sent the Lantern a $10 bill for the ad and a plea to help locate the young lady.

The ad accomplished its mission the very first time around, but not quite the way Feiring wanted it.

A refund is on its way to him, but he'd likely rather have a little warmer response from Miss Schick.

Gas Wholesaler Told To Lower Its Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — United Fuel Gas Co., Charleston, W. Va., which serves nine wholesale customers in Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky and Pennsylvania, must reduce its wholesale natural gas rates.

The Power Commission said Friday the company, a Columbia Gas System subsidiary, must lower the rates by $2,172,224 a year for the period from Jan. 1, 1956, through July 1957. The order directs appropriate refunds to the customer companies.

Ohio To Be Shy on Funds For Proper Roads Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state's share of an estimated 312 million dollars from highway user taxes this year will be insufficient for a proper road program, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told his cabinet Friday.

"One reason is the improper burden placed upon the state," the governor said. "We have to maintain an 18,000-mile system with what is left to us."

He explained that less than 44 per cent of such revenues remain for state use after distributions to counties, townships, municipalities and for bond retirement and highway safety.

The governor based his figures on the first of a new series of monthly financial statements by Highway Director Everett S. Preston.

In addition to a break-down of state revenue income and outgo, Preston said Ohio will receive nearly 150 million dollars in federal funds for interstate roads during the year.

Vet Carolina Congressman Plans To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Graham A. Barden (D-NC), chairman of the House Labor and Education Committee, announced today he is retiring from Congress this year after 26 years of House service.

The House seniority system puts Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) in line to succeed him as committee chairman.

Powell, a Negro and ardent civil rights champion, is due to go on trial in New York City March 7 on a three-count indictment charging income tax evasion and aiding in preparation of a fraudulent tax return.

Barden's announcement, ending 13 terms in Congress, was unexpected, and raised potentially critical questions over the course of labor and education legislation at an election-year session of Congress.

It also revived the possibility, long discussed behind the scenes, of splitting Barden's committee — one new committee to govern education and one with sole jurisdiction over labor.

Barden, a hard-fisted southern conservative, said he was quitting Congress because "I want to go home."

At 62, Barden said he wanted time for his boats, fishing, his grandchildren, his friends and his wife, like himself a native of North Carolina.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudy skies with numerous snow flurries continued throughout the night in most sections of the state. Temperatures moderated somewhat as skies remained cloudy. The coldest area this morning was the southeastern section where skies cleared in the early morning.

Cincinnati this morning had a temperature of 15 while nearby Covington, Ky., had 5. Elsewhere temperatures were generally in the upper teens or low 20s. The temperature at Columbus was 18, Cleveland 21 and Findlay 16.

Cloudy skies with scattered snow flurries are in store for most of Ohio today. Tonight will be colder as skies become partly cloudy to fair. Sunday will be colder with snow flurries restricted to the northeast section near Lake Erie.

Lockbourne Is Cited

OMAHA (AP) — Lockbourne Air Force Base at Columbus, Ohio, was one of 17 Strategic Air Command bases that had an accident free record during 1959, the SAC announced Friday.

ing the bookkeeping year ending next June 30, and can expect about 51 million dollars later in federal reimbursements.

James T. Welsh, director of the new State Department of Personnel, said 444 appeals have been made to the board of review by employees protesting job reclassifications. He said not all of the state's approximately 50,000 employees have received reclassification notices, and that appeals probably would pick up soon.

The reclassifications were based on a survey ordered by a previous Legislature.

The governor defended the survey. "From all the reclassification studies I have seen," the governor said, "I think this was about as good as any of them."

Welfare Director Mary Gorman said a survey was under way to determine the number of beds available in nursing homes for aged patients who could be transferred from state hospitals. She estimated about 900 patients should be transferred if proper facilities and care were available.

Health Director Ralph E. Dwork said his department is preparing a set of regulations for nursing homes. He reported that some homes appeared reluctant to supply the information needed by his department.

Sen. Humphrey Plans Powwow With DiSalle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) said today he will decide next week after conferring with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle whether to seek some delegates in Ohio's May 3 Democratic presidential preference primary.

DiSalle has announced he will run as a favorite son committed to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. At stake are Ohio's 64 delegate votes in the party's national convention at Los Angeles in July.

Humphrey will speak in Ohio Tuesday night and will have a Wednesday breakfast conference with DiSalle.

At issue, Humphrey said, is whether DiSalle intends to release the Ohio delegation after the first or second convention ballot or seek to hold them for Kennedy indefinitely.

Humphrey said he would not seek delegates in the Ohio primary if DiSalle plans no attempt to hold onto the delegates. However, he said, if he finds that DiSalle intends to hold them, he may permit some persons to file in his name in some Ohio districts, but not all of them.

Ohio Dem Leaders Haggling Over Loyalty to Kennedy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Leaders in the power play for Ohio delegates to the Democratic national convention express conviction that Sen. John F. Kennedy will win the presidential nomination.

But they keep haggling over how long delegates must stay pledged to Kennedy if he fails to make the grade.

The bickering could become embarrassing to the Massachusetts senator although Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has assured him that things will work out.

DiSalle promised to field a slate of favorite son delegates in the May 3 primary election committed to vote at the convention for Kennedy until he is nominated or withdraws. After that, he said his delegates would decide their course in caucus.

Ray T. Miller of Cleveland, Democratic chairman in populous Cuyahoga County, plans to contest DiSalle for a bloc of Ohio's 64-vote delegation. Miller says his slate will swing to the candidate of Kennedy's choice if the Massachusetts senator fails to get the nomination.

U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland brought the unvoiced concern of various Ohio Democrats into the open by asserting that Kennedy must win nomination on the first or second convention ballot or fail.

Young indicated he would rather be a spectator than become a DiSalle-slate delegate committed to stay with a fading Kennedy. The Ohio senator explained that he preferred freedom to make his own choice if Kennedy slipped early.

Politics saw Miller's clash with DiSalle over delegates as a play for political power. DiSalle's agreement to seek a solid Ohio favorite son delegation, pledged through him to Kennedy, took the spotlight from Miller, whose organization came out for the senator last year.

But the well-entrenched Miller, whose organization has been successful in electing delegates to past conventions, threatens to dent the DiSalle slate. DiSalle has speculated that if Miller captured a fourth of Ohio's delegates, he might be in position to grab for control.

Ohio's federal patronage figures in the picture because delegates pick national committee members. Reports hint that Albert A. Horstman of Dayton, who has handled federal patronage since he became Ohio national committeeman in 1944, may step down this year. DiSalle wants a hand in selection of any successor.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown estimates Ohio's potential voters at 6 1/2 million but he predicts that only about half of them will mark ballots in this presidential election year.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state's share of an estimated $12 million dollars from highway user taxes this year will be insufficient for a proper road program, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told his cabinet Friday.

"One reason is the improper burden placed upon the state," the governor said. "We have to maintain an 18,000-mile system with what is left to us."

He explained that less than 44 per cent of such revenues remain for state use after distributions to counties, townships, municipalities and for bond retirement and highway safety.

The governor based his figures on the first of a new series of monthly financial statements by Highway Director Everett S. Preston.

In addition to a break-down of state revenue income and outgo, Preston said Ohio will receive nearly 150 million dollars in federal funds for interstate roads during the bookkeeping year ending next June 30, and can expect about $1 million dollars later in federal reimbursements.

James T. Welsh, director of the new State Department of Personnel, said 444 appeals have been made to the board of review by employees protesting job reclassifications. He said not all of the state's approximately 50,000 employees have received reclassification notices, and that appeals probably would pick up soon.

The reclassifications were based on a survey ordered by a previous Legislature.

The governor defended the survey. "From all the reclassification studies I have seen," the governor said, "I think this was about as good as any of them."

Welfare Director Mary Gorman said a survey was under way to determine the number of beds available in nursing homes for aged patients who could be transferred from state hospitals. She estimated about 900 patients should be transferred if proper facilities and care were available.

Health Director Ralph E. Dwork said his department is preparing a set of regulations for nursing homes. He reported that some homes appeared reluctant to supply the information needed by his department.

Vet Carolina Congressman Plans To Quit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Graham A. Barden (D-NC), chairman of the House Labor and Education Committee, announced today he is retiring from Congress this year after 26 years of House service.

The House seniority system puts Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY) in line to succeed him as committee chairman.

Powell, a Negro and ardent civil rights champion, is due to go on trial in New York City March 7 on a three-count indictment charging income tax evasion and aiding in preparation of a fraudulent tax return.

Barden's announcement, ending 13 terms in Congress, was unexpected, and raised potentially critical questions over the course of labor and education legislation at an election-year session of Congress.

It also revived the possibility, long discussed behind the scenes, of splitting Barden's committee—one new committee to govern education and one with sole jurisdiction over labor.

Barden, a hard-fisted southern conservative, said he was quitting Congress because "I want to go home."

At 62, Barden said he wanted time for his boats, fishing, his grandchildren, his friends and his wife, like himself a native of North Carolina.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cloudy skies with numerous snow flurries continued throughout the night in most sections of the state. Temperatures moderated somewhat as skies remained cloudy.

The coldest area this morning was the southeastern section where skies cleared in the early morning.

Cincinnati this morning had a temperature of 15 while nearby Covington, Ky., had 5. Elsewhere temperatures were generally in the upper teens or low 20s. The temperature at Columbus was 18, Cleveland 21 and Findlay 16.

Cloudy skies with scattered snow flurries are in store for most of Ohio today. Tonight will be colder as skies become partly cloudy to fair. Sunday will be colder with snow flurries restricted to the northeast section near Lake Erie.

Sen. Humphrey Plans Powwow With DiSalle

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today he will decide next week after conferring with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle whether to seek some delegates in Ohio's May 3 Democratic presidential preference primary.

DiSalle has announced he will run as a favorite son committed to Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts. At stake are Ohio's 64 delegate votes in the party's national convention at Los Angeles in July.

Humphrey will speak in Ohio Tuesday night and will have a Wednesday breakfast conference with DiSalle.

At issue, Humphrey said, is whether DiSalle intends to release the Ohio delegation after the first or second convention ballot or seek to hold them for Kennedy indefinitely.

Humphrey said he would not seek delegates in the Ohio primary if DiSalle plans no attempt to hold onto the delegates. However, he said, if he finds that DiSalle intends to hold them, he may permit some persons to file in his name in some Ohio districts, but not all of them.

Nickel Plate Aide Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — William Fullington West, 74, who retired in 1957 as general solicitor of the Nickel Plate Road, died Friday night at his home in University Heights. He was the son of the late William A. West, prominent Bellefontaine attorney, and grandson of former Ohio Supreme Court Judge William West.

Ohio Dem Leaders Hagglng Over Loyalty to Kennedy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Leaders in the power play for Ohio delegates to the Democratic national convention express conviction that Sen. John F. Kennedy will win the presidential nomination.

But they keep hagglng over how long delegates must stay pledged to Kennedy if he fails to make the grade.

The bickering could become embarrassing to the Massachusetts senator although Gov. Michael V. DiSalle has assured him that things will work out.

DiSalle promised to field a slate of favorite son delegates in the May 3 primary election committed to vote at the convention for Kennedy until he is nominated or withdraws. After that, he said his delegates would decide their course in caucus.

Ray T. Miller of Cleveland, Democratic chairman in populous Cuyahoga County, plans to contest DiSalle for a bloc of Ohio's 64-vote delegation. Miller says his slate will swing to the candidate of Kennedy's choice if the Massachusetts senator fails to get the nomination.

U.S. Sen. Stephen M. Young of Cleveland brought the unvoiced concern of various Ohio Democrats into the open by asserting that Kennedy must win nomination on the first or second convention ballot or fail.

Young indicated he would rather be a spectator than become a DiSalle-slate delegate committed to stay with a fading Kennedy. The Ohio senator explained that he preferred freedom to make his own choice if Kennedy slipped early.

Politics saw Miller's clash with DiSalle over delegates as a play for political power. DiSalle's agreement to seek a solid Ohio favorite son delegation, pledged through him to Kennedy, took the spotlight from Miller, whose organization came out for the senator last year.

But the well-entrenched Miller, whose organization has been successful in electing delegates to past conventions, threatens to dent the DiSalle slate. DiSalle has speculated that if Miller captured a fourth of Ohio's delegates, he might be in position to grab for control.

Ohio's federal patronage figures in the picture because delegates pick national committee members. Reports hint that Albert A. Horstman of Dayton, who has handled federal patronage since he became Ohio national committeeman in 1944, may step down this year. DiSalle wants a hand in selection of any successor.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown estimates Ohio's potential voters at 6½ million but he predicts that only about half of them will mark ballots in this presidential election year.

U.S. Business Helping Balance Ike's Budget

Corporations Show 22 Pct. Average Profit Gain During 1959

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Business is doing its best—and pretty good—to help President Eisenhower get the money to balance this fiscal year's budget and to raise the $4 billion dollars he needs if he is to rack up a four billion dollar budget surplus in the next fiscal year.

First earnings reports on 1959 operations show these corporations averaging a 22 per cent gain in profits over 1958. And since the U.S. Treasury gets roughly as much as in taxes as business reports in net income after taxes, the Treasury take is higher by the same percentage and much better than it feared when the steel strike was taking its toll.

The first 180 companies to report include few who were hurt much by the strike. The big casualties—the steel companies, the railroads in steel making country, the auto and appliance plants that had to shut down for lack of steel—will report later. So, the final gain over 1958 may be slimmer than the early reports indicate.

But these same casualties are promising big earnings gains in the early months of 1960. And their income tax returns should gladden the Treasury statisticians.

Four out of five of companies reporting so far show profit gains over 1958 (the first half of which was marred by recession).

The number operating at a loss is about the same—17 in 1959 and 16 in 1958.

Many of the companies closed the books on their fiscal year before the steel workers returned to the mills.

Combined the 180 made $11.14, 373,000 in 1959, against $912,975,000 in 1958.

Stockholders in general had a big year, too. The Department of Commerce estimates total cash dividends of about 12 1/2 billion dollars, up seven per cent from the previous year, and topping the record of 12 1/2 billion set in 1957.

But the steel strike did take its toll in corporate profits. This shows up in the quarter by quarter reports. In the first three months earnings ran 54 per cent ahead of 1958. An even better second quarter, just ahead of the strike, sent the gain for the first six months to 56 per cent over the like period the previous year. The average of earnings in the third quarter was just about even with the previous year, but the nine months figure was still 35 per cent ahead. For the full year it's running lower.

The bad news will come next week when the big steel companies are due to report on their 1959 operations. Many showed a net loss in the third quarter. But for the entire year most are expected to show modest gains over 1958.

U.S. Holds Door Open for Red China To Participate in Disarmament Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is holding the door open for Red China to participate in a global disarmament program—if negotiations ever reach that point.

Officials acknowledge that inspection stations on Red Chinese territory would be essential to make any arms control plans effective. This need, in turn, could some day force this country to take a new look at its policy of nonrecognition of Communist China.

This country has negotiated informally with Red China on other matters without recognizing the Communist regime, and officials said their present stand has no bearing on recognition. But the issue could be raised either by the Red Chinese or on their behalf by the Soviets in connection with working out any disarmament agreement. Recognition might be presented as the price of Red China's participation.

The link between Red China and disarmament was brought to the fore Thursday by statements in Peiping and Washington.

In the Chinese capital, Foreign Minister Chen Yi declared that his country would not be bound by any disarmament agreement reached without its formal participation or without the signature of its delegates.

In Washington State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said that if substantial progress is made toward controlled disarmament during the forthcoming negotiations at Geneva, "then it would be logical to consider participation in such a disarmament program by other countries including Red China."

Negotiations reopen in Geneva March 15. Ten nations will take part—five Allies and five Communist countries. They include the Big Four—the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—but Red China is not among them.

Already under way at Geneva are negotiations among the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union looking toward a ban on the testing of atomic weapons. Such a ban, assuming it included underground tests, would have to be supervised by worldwide network of stations equipped to detect sneak explosions of atomic weapons.

Experts have decided that least 180 stations would be required just to police an agreement to prohibit atomic test explosions. Of the total possibly a score would have to be set up on Red Chinese territory to make the prohibition effective.

Cowan Lake Water Decision Promised by End of Month

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Natural Resources will decide by the end of the month whether Clinton County Water Co. can take water from Cowan Lake for use at Clinton County Air Force Base and in the city of Wilmington.

John W. Ferguson, assistant department director, said "the base would like to know by the end of January, and we plan to be ready to tell them then."

Boating and fishing enthusiasts are protesting the proposal in the belief that recreational activities will be harmed. Natural Resources Director Herbert B. Eagon directed his Division of Water to make a study and also has received a recommendation from V. W. Division which controls the managed lake.

"Our whole intent," Ferguson said, "is to make these bodies of water multi-purpose—recreation, flood control and water supply. This may be possible at Cowan Lake and it may not. We'll find out. As the director said, it is primarily a recreation area."

Water from the Portage Lakes in the Akron area is sold to industry by the State Department of Public Works, Ferguson said, and the Burr Oak pipeline serves seven Southern Ohio communities which need its water.

Water is sometimes released from Grant Lake in Brown County to assist Georgetown in time of drought, he added.

"If it's possible to take water from Cowan without jeopardizing the recreational facilities, we'll permit it," Ferguson concluded.

Dear John:

We just wanted you to know that Dorothy and I really enjoyed our visit with you folks this past weekend. All the way home we remarked how wonderful it was to sit and visit with you in your beautiful recreation room. Dot says it's the most beautiful ceiling she's ever seen. And when you told us how little trouble it was to put on and how reasonable the cost, she made me promise to go right down to Ashville Lumber's office and get an estimate on the cost of redoing the ceiling of our rec room. I found that that a 12' by 12' room can be done for as little as $26.42 . . . so you know what I'll be doing this weekend! Thanks for the tip on Armstrong Ceiling tile.

The number operating at a loss is about the same—17 in 1959 and 16 in 1958.

Many of the companies closed the books on their fiscal year before the steel workers returned to the mills.

Combined the 180 made $1,114,373,000 in 1959, against $912,975,000 in 1958.

Stockholders in general had a big year, too. The Department of Commerce estimates total cash dividends of about 12 1/2 billion dollars, up seven per cent from the previous year, and topping the record of 12 1/2 billion set in 1957.

But the steel strike did take its toll in corporate profits. This shows up in the quarter by quarter reports. In the first three months earnings ran 54 per cent ahead of 1958. An even better second quarter, just ahead of the strike, sent the gain for the first six months to 56 per cent over the like period the previous year.

The average of earnings in the third quarter was just about even with the previous year, but the nine months figure was still 35 per cent ahead. For the full year it's running lower.

The bad news will come next week when the big steel companies are due to report on their 1959 operations. Many showed a net loss in the third quarter. But for the entire year most are expected to show modest gains over 1958.

U.S. Holds Door Open for Red China To Participate in Disarmament Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is holding the door open for Red China to participate in a global disarmament program — if negotiations ever reach that point.

Officials acknowledge that inspection stations on Red Chinese territory would be essential to make any arms control plans effective. This need, in turn, could some day force this country to take a new look at its policy of nonrecognition of Communist China.

This country has negotiated informally with Red China on other matters without recognizing the Communist regime, and officials said their present stand has no bearing on recognition. But the issue could be raised either by the Red Chinese or on their behalf by the Soviets in connection with working out any disarmament agreement. Recognition might be presented as the price of Red China's participation.

The link between Red China and disarmament was brought to the fore Thursday by statements in Peking and Washington.

In the Chinese capital, Foreign Minister Chen Yi declared that his country would not be bound by any disarmament agreement reached without its formal participation or without the signature of its delegates.

In Washington State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said that if substantial progress is made toward controlled disarmament during the forthcoming negotiations at Geneva, "then it would be logical to consider participation in such a disarmament program by other countries including Red China."

Negotiations reopen in Geneva March 15. Ten nations will take part—five Allies and five Communist countries. They include the Big Four—the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—but Red China is not among them.

Already under way at Geneva are negotiations among the United States, Britain and the Soviet Union looking toward a ban on the testing of atomic weapons. Such a ban, assuming it included underground tests, would have to be supervised by worldwide network of stations equipped to detect sneak explosions of atomic weapons.

Experts have decided that least 180 stations would be required just to police an agreement to prohibit atomic test explosions.

Of the total possibly a score would have to be set up on Red Chinese territory to make the prohibition effective.

Contains

COMBUSTO

COMBUSTO-LUBAL Added to Fuel-Oil Keeps Burner, Oil Lines, Strainers, Jets and Carburetor Coils Clean. Provides Long, Continuous Heating Service.

No Heat Losses Due to Soot Lining the Combustion Chamber

FUEL OIL

COMBUSTO-LUBAL definitely improves the burning qualities of the fuel-oil to which it has been added. It assures clean injector systems. Prevents clogged nozzles. Gives an even flow of fuel under all pressures. Liquefies sludge that it may be consumed with the fuel-oil. Keeps fire-pot and flues soot free.

These Benefits Available For Heating Units in Factory or Home

- More Heat With Less Fuel
- Uninterrupted Heat All Winter
- Nozzles Kept Carbon Free
- Gum Deposits Dissolved and Removed
- Rust and Corrosion Retarded

COMBUSTO-LUBAL added to fuel-oil improves atomization, increases temperature by the elimination of carbon. Prevents flame fluctuation. Helps the burner heat faster. Burns the fuel core completely. Increases furnace temperatures. Eliminates soot. Decreases chimney temperatures. All these benefits are reflected in lower fuel consumption and substantial savings in maintenance.

Decennial Census Due Soon

The U.S. Bureau of the Census is going to start adding up all Americans in March or April, and if the count includes all presidential candidates, the total could reach 180 million.

The 1960 decennial job, mandatory under the Constitution, will cost about $118 million. When it is finished a great deal more will be known than merely how much the U. S. has grown since 1950. The census takers will tally household appliances, automobiles, races, skills educational attainments and incomes, along with noses.

Approximately 60 million American homes will be visited by census-takers this spring. They will collect and complete the millions of forms to be distributed in advance by the Post Office Department. And with that peculiar sense of timing common to bureaucracy, the census forms doubtless will arrive just when most citizens are completing another questionnaire—for the Internal Revenue Service.

All of this should be interesting or an unwarranted invasion of privacy, depending on how one looks at it.

Soil Bank Open to Cheats

The Controller General of the United States has hopped on one facet of the soil bank program that has had many a conscientious farmer puzzled. The official, Joseph Campbell, accuses the U. S. Agriculture Department of slipshod handling of the multi-million dollar program.

He objects particularly to the fact that nearly one-fourth of the land placed in the soil bank had not previously been used regularly to grow crops. Many citizens have wondered about poor cropland hastily acquired and then thrust into the soil bank. This seemed to defeat the announced intent to take land out of production.

Campbell agrees. He says the law and regulations "were not fully and effectively carried out" in that 5.4 million acres (23 per cent of the 23 million acres the government rented last year) "had been devoted to hay and pasture, had been idle or summer-fallowed, or had a history of crop failure."

Southern Problem Is Intense

By George Sokolsky

In a Presidential campaign, every issue counts. The Negro question will be of importance because so many Negroes live in telling states, such as New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California. On the other hand, what has for many years been called the Negro Problem is not as pressing in 1960 as it has been during the past two decades.

In the South, the Negro question is one of social integration; in the North, it is fast becoming a matter of political control. In New York City, the Negroes and the Puerto Ricans can hold the political balance of power and can exert an enormous economic pressure upon the community.

In recent years, the Negro vote was well organized and was generally Democratic; that is not likely to be so in 1960. The Northern Negro, it may be assumed, will be influential in both political parties.

"The Case for the South," by William D. Workman, Jr., puts the problem in two paragraphs better than I have seen it anywhere else. He says:

"The South is being scourged by pestilential forces which impose an almost intolerable burden upon Americans who cherish state sovereignty, constitutional government, and racial integrity. On the one hand are these three: the Supreme Court of the United States, which has wrought havoc in its injudicious effort to play at sociology; the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which has recklessly undertaken to achieve race-mixing by pressure; and the Northern politicians and propagandists who prevent small truths into big lies as they purvey vilification and ignorance on a grand scale. On the other hand is the Ku Klux Klan with its unlovely cohorts who substitute muscle and meanness for the intellect which by rights must be the defense of the South.

The man in the middle is the one whose voice needs to be heard, for too long has his quiet but determined resistance to tyranny from either side been unheralded and unexplained."

One who lives in the north and who has only seen the South on casual visits discusses this problem from the standpoint of whatever his bias may be. So much has been written about the South and the Negro that it becomes increasingly difficult for one who is not adjusted to a Southern environment to form an accurate judgment from the data.

As one travels about the South, it would appear on the surface that the Southern Negro lives under physical circumstances there that are superior to those in the Harlem district of New York City or in the Bedford-Stuyvesant district of Brooklyn. In the North, the Negro is segregated physically and socially and although there are no signs, "For Whites Only," the practical application exists in many areas, but decreasingly so.

Negroes of means are moving into better buildings and there is a degree of intermarriage. In the South, intermarriage raises a very serious problem; in the North, particularly among the richer Negroes, it is not so unusual.

Social equality never can exist without intermarriage and therefore while the problems of political and economic equality can be solved more readily than heretofore, social equality, not only of Negro and white, but of Jew and Christian or Protestant and Catholic, involves numerous inherited obstacles.

Workman quotes Prof. E. Franklin Frazier of Howard University as follows:

"Even in the United States, where the mixing of whites and Negroes slowed down after emancipation, the urbanization of the Negro and his rise in economic and social status are accelerating racial mixture. The absorption of the Negro will scarcely change the physical character of the population but the cultural influence of the Negro, especially in music, has left its imprint on the new American culture that is evolving."

Intermarriage always involves serious considerations. When no social pressures or rigid laws exist against intermarriage of one people with another, such marriages are bound to take place. This has been true all over the world. Chinese, Japanese, and Hindus marry Caucasians, as whites are called among them. Hawaii is producing an entirely new race of such a mixture, in which must also be included the remains of the native Kanakas.

This is too broad a subject to consider here now. William D. Workman, Jr., a Southern newspaperman, discusses it with more objectivity than one would expect in "The Case for the South," an able study.

Red Scientist Says Rocket Fired in Pacific Is 'Biggest'

MOSCOW (AP)—A leading Soviet scientist said today the super-rocket fired into the Pacific Wednesday was the biggest the Soviets have launched and the forerunner of a heavy space satellite with equipment that can bring it back to earth.

Prof. V. Dobronravov said the test rocket's last two stages reached a speed of more than 26,000 kilometers an hour—better than 16,172 miles an hour.

The Soviet rocket that carried the satellite which photographed the moon last fall weighed about 3,323 pounds (without fuel) in the last stage. The satellite itself weighed only 614 pounds.

Sputnik III, launched on May 15, 1958, weighed 2,925 pounds. The United States put a 1,700-pound satellite, Discoverer VIII, into orbit in November. Its maximum altitude is about 1,000 miles from the earth.

Dobronravov wrote in the Moscow Pravda, organ of the Moscow branch of the Communist Party, that this week's Soviet test firing shows "the final stage of the future larger space rockets will be able to develop not only the first astronomical speed of 11.2 kilometers (about 7 miles) per second but even a greater speed, sufficient for flights not only to the moon but to the planets of the solar system."

He explained it will be possible to install "a space orientation system" for controlling the heavy earth satellite, fitted with a telescope and retro-rockets. The retro-rockets would slow down the Sputnik when it enters denser atmosphere.

"Finally," he added, "a heavy Sputnik can carry a device permitting its safe descent through all the atmosphere to the point of landing."

Some 200 scientists gather in Nice, France, for an international congress to discuss the planets, cosmic and solar rays, the ionosphere and the earth's atmosphere. In other words—the sky's not the limit.

The Nice congress will last one week, which seems a pretty short time in which to cover so much space.

Plan Vacation Site Now

By Herman J. Bundesen, M.D.
Let's start thinking about next summer's vacation now.

Since most bosses want vacation schedules decided upon early in the year, maybe you had better give a thought to yours.

And if you are an allergy victim, let me help you with your plans.

August, of course, generally is the most popular vacation month. But if you have hay fever or asthma, you don't want to go heading for a vacation in the ragweed country.

If you have the yen and the money to take a look at our 49th state, you can go there any time and not have to worry about ragweed. The major cities of Alaska—Nome, Fairbanks and Juneau—don't have any ragweed problems.

If you plan a trip to New England, just remember that trees pollinate there in April and May; grasses in late May and June; and ragweed in August, September and early October.

Along the Gulf coast ragweed is a problem from August through most of October.

If you plan a Florida vacation, the hay fever season in the central part of the state, around Tampa, usually extends from June through November. The southern tip of the state has relatively little pollen and Miami Beach is pretty safe.

Generally, the seashore with a prevailing off-shore breeze is relatively pollen-free most of the time.

Other areas that are generally safe for hay fever victims, include: California, the Pacific Northwest (particularly western Oregon and the Puget Sound area) and the wooded areas of northern Minnesota, Michigan, Maine and New Hampshire.

Also relatively safe are West Yellowstone and Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming; Reno, Washington; Portland, Oregon; Sun Valley, Idaho; Isle Royale, Michigan; and San Francisco, California.

If you plan to visit the Black Hills and you have hay fever, don't go between July and September.

Hot Springs is a nice place for a vacation, but if you have hay fever don't plan one there from August through October.

Tranquilizer Pill Profits Probed
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee said today drug makers are taking in nearly 200 million dollars a year from sales of tranquilizers. It set out to determine whether the prices are too high.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said the prices affect not only persons who buy and use the prescription drugs, but to some extent all taxpayers whose money helps support mental hospitals.

Some of the more potent tranquilizers are widely used in treating the mentally ill.

Other types of tranquilizer pills are used by millions of Americans to relieve anxiety and tension.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don't worry. It won't happen.

Still, it's nice to think that in the 1960 campaign Democrats and Republicans might operate on a high, nonpartisan plane, relying on logic, sweet reasonableness and the laws of evidence to present their case.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, got into the subject Thursday. He doesn't admit being a presidential candidate although many observers feel this is more a matter of tactics than modesty.

He said in Chicago that both major political parties must rise above partisanship when America's very heartland is within range of "instantaneous and devastating enemy attack."

But about the same time, former President Truman, who never suffered from a political impediment in his speech, was telling reporters here:

"I've always liked Ike but I don't think he made a good president." Then, after stating confidently the next president would be a Democrat, he asked: "What more do you want for the welfare of the country?"

Only last week President Eisenhower got irritated when a reporter raised a question: Whether there was political partisanship when Democrats and Republicans talked about the defense program, since the former criticize and the latter defend.

Said Eisenhower: "I don't take it kindly—the implied accusation that I am dealing with the whole matter of defense on a partisan basis. I don't have to be partisan."

While Eisenhower could remain nonpartisan on matters of defense—although some question can be raised whether all the members of his administration are—the Republicans in Congress weren't being carried away by the idea of political nobility.

On the contrary. A few days after Eisenhower spoke out, Republicans in the House—where all seats are up for grabs next November—began a series of attacks on the ability of the Democratic party to meet the challenge of the 1960s.

Their leader, Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, even went so far as to pride himself on the "togetherness" of the Republicans while casting doubt on the ability of the Democrats to face the issues.

Of all the men in both parties the two who can least afford to show either nonpartisanship or togetherness are Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Kentucky's Sen. Thruston B. Morton, chairman of the Republicans.

The whole purpose of their job is to make their own side look good and the other awful. It was in this spirit that Butler recently gave an opinion on Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the most likely Republican presidential candidate. Butler said Nixon "is a smart, shrewd, devious political operator." On the subject of the United States and where it stands after seven years of the Eisenhower administration, Butler said:

"We are a second-rate nation, second to Russia militarily."

And Morton's response, while predictable, could hardly be called nonpartisan: "I am getting sick and tired of all these implications about the vice president being devious."

"I think it is a disservice to go around talking about the United States being a second-rate power."

Since Democrats and Republicans so far have hardly climbed into the 1960 ring, still have their bath robes on and haven't had a chance to warm up, the few preliminaries just recorded seem to foreshadow a lively evening.

Lausche Shuns Ohio Race as Favorite Son

WASHINGTON (AP)—"To enter a slate of candidates is practically an insurmountable task," said Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) as he abandoned his plan to captain a slate of presidential delegate candidates to oppose the Ohio slate pledged to Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

The Ohio senator said Thursday that to amass the delegates he would have to ignore his responsibilities as senator to the people of his state.

"That, I also cannot afford to do," he said.

"Having in mind that I have no organization, it (getting delegates) would have to be done by the hiring of personnel. That course would require the solicitation of money to finance the project, which I am unwilling to do."

Lausche had said several weeks ago that he might run a delegate slate against the Kennedy group led by Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Following his action Thursday, Lausche commented:

"This does not mean that I approve of the deal made in this presidential primary in Ohio wherein the Democrats of the state are practically stripped of their right to make a choice."

He expressed regret to his supporters at having to abandon the plan of entering a slate. He said the technical job of selecting candidates and circulating petitions was much too heavy while fulfilling his duties as senator. Deadline for such petitions is Feb. 3.

"The Case for the South," by William D. Workman, Jr., puts the problem in two paragraphs better than I have seen it anywhere else. He says:

"The South is being scourged by pestilential forces which impose an almost intolerable burden upon Americans who cherish state sovereignty, constitutional government, and racial integrity. On the one hand are these three: the Supreme Court of the United States, which has wrought havoc in its injudicious effort to play at sociology; the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which has recklessly undertaken to achieve race-mixing by pressure; and the Northern politicians and propagandists who prevent small truths into big lies as they purvey vilification and ignorance on a grand scale. On the other hand is the Ku Klux Klan with its untold cohorts who substitute muscle and meanness for the intellect which by rights must be the defense of the South.

The man in the middle is the one whose voice needs to be heard, for too long has his quiet but determined resistance to tyranny from either side been unheralded and unexplained."

One who lives in the north and who has only seen the South on casual visits discusses this problem from the standpoint of whatever his bias may be. So much has been written about the South and the Negro that it is obviously incorrect that it becomes increasingly difficult for one who is not adjusted to a Southern environment to form an accurate judgment from the data.

As one travels about the South, it would appear on the surface that the Southern Negro lives under physical circumstances there that are superior to those in the Harlem district of New York City or in the Bedford-Stuyvesant district of Brooklyn. In the North, the Negro is segregated physically and socially and although there are no signs, "For Whites Only," the practical application exists in many areas, but decreasingly so.

Negroes of means are moving into better buildings and there is a degree of intermarriage. In the South, intermarriage raises a very serious problem; in the North, particularly among the richer Negroes, it is not so unusual.

Social equality never can exist without intermarriage and therefore while the problems of political and economic equality can be solved more readily than heretofore, social equality, not only of Negro and white, but of Jew and Christian or Protestant and Catholic, involves numerous inherited obstacles.

Workman quotes Prof. E. Franklin Frazier of Howard University as follows:

"Even in the United States, where the mixing of whites and Negroes slowed down after emancipation, the urbanization of the Negro and his rise in economic and social status are accelerating racial mixture. The absorption of the Negro will scarcely change the physical character of the population but the cultural influence of the Negro, especially in music, has left its imprint on the new American culture that is evolving."

Intermarriage always involves serious considerations. When no social pressures or rigid laws exist against intermarriage of one people with another, such marriages are bound to take place. This has been true all over the world. Chinese, Japanese, and Hindus marry Caucasians, as whites are called among them. Hawaii is producing an entirely new race of such a mixture, in which must also be included the remains of the native Kanakas.

This is too broad a subject to consider here now. William D. Workman, Jr., a Southern newspaperman, discusses it with more objectivity than one would expect in "The Case for the South," an able study.

Red Scientist Says Rocket Fired in Pacific Is 'Biggest'

MOSCOW (AP)—A leading Soviet scientist said today the super-rocket fired into the Pacific Wednesday was the biggest the Soviets have launched and the forerunner of a heavy space satellite with equipment that can bring it back to earth.

Prof. V. Dobronravov said the test rocket's last two stages reached a speed of more than 26,000 kilometers an hour—better than 16,172 miles an hour.

The Soviet rocket that carried the satellite which photographed the moon last fall weighed about 3,323 pounds (without fuel) in the last stage. The satellite itself weighed only 614 pounds.

Sputnik III, launched on May 15, 1958, weighed 2,925 pounds. The United States put a 1,700-pound satellite, Discoverer VIII, into orbit in November. Its maximum altitude is about 1,000 miles from the earth.

Dobronravov wrote in the Moscow Pravda, organ of the Moscow branch of the Communist Party, that this week's Soviet test firing shows "the final stage of the future larger space rockets will be able to develop not only the first astronomical speed of 11.2 kilometers (about 7 miles) per second but even a greater speed, sufficient for flights not only to the moon but to the planets of the solar system, too."

"The development of a heavy earth satellite may be useful for solving basic problems of space travel," he wrote. "The same holds true of the launching of heavier space rockets to the planets of the solar system."

He explained it will be possible to install "a space orientation system" for controlling the heavy earth satellite, fitted with a telescope and retro-rockets. The retro-rockets would slow down the Sputnik when it enters denser atmosphere.

"Finally," he added, "a heavy Sputnik can carry a device permitting its safe descent through all the atmosphere to the point of landing."

Some 200 scientists gather in Nice, France, for an international congress to discuss the planets, cosmic and solar rays, the ionosphere and the earth's atmosphere. In other words—the sky's not the limit.

The Nice congress will last one week, which seems a pretty short time in which to cover so much space.

Zadok Dumkopf says the Nice conclave may not be a summit meeting but it sure is out of this world.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

INTERVIEWED ON his hundredth birthday, spry old Jed Abernathy told reporters, "See no reason why I shouldn't live another hundred years to boot." "You'd be about the first human since Methuselah to make it," a reporter said. "I know," nodded Jed, "but there's one thing in my favor: I feel a dang sight stronger starting my second hundred than I did my first!"

Three climates in a Soviet hoosegow compared notes. "I was jailed for coming late to work," mourned the first. "Me, I came too early," recalled the second. "They said this proved I was a capitalist spy," "And I'm here," nodded the third, "because I arrived exactly on time. They accused me of owning an American watch."

One more evidence of inflation: Today, when you tell a girl friend she looks like a million dollars, she thinks you're insulting her!

Plan Vacation Site Now

By Herman Bundesen, M.D.
Let's start thinking about next summer's vacation now.

Since most bosses want vacation schedules decided upon early in the year, maybe you had better give a thought to yours.

And if you are an allergy victim, let me help you with your plans.

August, of course, generally is the most popular vacation month. But if you have hay fever or asthma, you don't want to go heading for a vacation in the ragweed country.

If you have the yen and the money to take a look at our 49th state, you can go there any time and not have to worry about ragweed. The major cities of Alaska—Nome, Fairbanks and Juneau—don't have any ragweed problems.

If you plan a trip to New England, just remember that trees pollinate there in April and May; grasses in late May and June; and ragweed in August, September and early October.

Along the Gulf coast ragweed is a problem from August through most of October.

If you plan a Florida vacation, the hay fever season in the central part of the state, around Tampa, usually extends from June through November. The southern tip of the state has relatively little pollen and Miami Beach is pretty safe.

Generally, the seashore with a prevailing off-shore breeze is relatively pollen-free most of the time.

Other areas that are generally safe for hay fever victims, include:

California, the Pacific Northwest

Wittenberg University Plans Saturday Classes

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Undergraduate students at Wittenberg University will get a taste of Saturday morning classes beginning next fall.

The change is being made to increase efficiency of classroom use and give students more time to work on academic courses, Dean John N. Stauffer announced today.

At present only post-graduate and some School of Community Education classes are scheduled on Saturday.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Don't worry. It won't happen. Still, it's nice to think that in the 1960 campaign Democrats and Republicans might operate on a high, nonpartisan plane, relying on logic, sweet reasonableness and the laws of evidence to present their case.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, leader of the Senate Democrats, got into the subject Thursday. He doesn't admit being a presidential candidate although many observers feel this is more a matter of tactics than modesty.

He said in Chicago that both major political parties must rise above partisanship when America's very heartland is within range of "instantaneous and devastating enemy attack."

But about the same time, former President Truman, who never suffered from a political impediment in his speech, was telling reporters here:

"I've always liked Ike but I don't think he made a good president." Then, after stating confidently the next president would be a Democrat, he asked: "What more do you want for the welfare of the country?"

Only last week President Eisenhower got irritated when a reporter raised a question: Whether there was political partisanship when Democrats and Republicans talked about the defense program, since the former criticize and the latter defend.

Said Eisenhower: "I don't take it kindly—the implied accusation that I am dealing with the whole matter of defense on a partisan basis. I don't have to be partisan."

While Eisenhower could remain nonpartisan on matters of defense—although some question can be raised whether all the members of his administration are—the Republicans in Congress weren't being carried away by the idea of political nobility.

On the contrary. A few days after Eisenhower spoke out, Republicans in the House—where all seats are up for grabs next November—began a series of attacks on the ability of the Democratic party to meet the challenge of the 1960s.

Their leader, Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana, even went so far as to pride himself on the "togetherness" of the Republicans while casting doubt on the ability of the Democrats to face the issues.

Of all the men in both parties the two who can least afford to show either nonpartisanship or togetherness are Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Kentucky's Sen. Thruston B. Morton, chairman of the Republicans.

The whole purpose of their job is to make their own side look good and the other awful. It was in this spirit that Butler recently gave an opinion on Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the most likely Republican presidential candidate.

Butler said Nixon "is a smart, shrewd, devious political operator." On the subject of the United States and where it stands after seven years of the Eisenhower administration, Butler said:

"We are a second-rate nation, second to Russia militarily."

And Morton's response, while predictable, could hardly be called nonpartisan: "I am getting sick and tired of all these implications about the vice president being devious."

"I think it is a disservice to go around talking about the United States being a second-rate power."

Since Democrats and Republicans so far have hardly climbed into the 1960 ring, still have their bathrobes on and haven't had a chance to warm up, the few preliminaries just recorded seem to foreshadow a lively evening.

ADA Gives Its Scorecard On 'Liberal' Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Americans for Democratic Action rate Stephen M. Young as a more liberal senator—based on his first year in office—than his Ohio Democratic colleague, Frank J. Lausche.

ADA's sizeup of the two senators is included in its breakdown of voting records of all members of Congress in 1959.

On 13 selected Senate votes, ADA approved 12 of Young's votes and disapproved of only one. Lausche got a liberal rating on four votes and was disapproved on nine.

ADA is an organization describing itself as liberal and anti-Communist. Generally, it has backed Democrats.

Among votes by Young that the ADA liked were his support of federal aid for areas of serious unemployment, repeal of the student loan loyalty oath, and funds for college classrooms.

The Young vote frowned on by ADA was one interpreted as refusing to go along with a move to restrict filibusters in the Senate.

Lausche and Young were together on the four ADA-approved votes cast by Lausche.

These were: another anti-filibuster vote, favoring repeal of an income tax credit for people getting stock dividends, against tax benefits for oil and gas interests, and for continuing economic development loans abroad.

On the House side, ADA found two Ohio democrats—Robert Levering and Charles A. Vanik—who voted the ADA way on nine selected issues.

A third Ohio Democrat, Wayne

Tranquilizer Pill Profits Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate subcommittee said today drug makers are taking in nearly 200 million dollars a year from sales of tranquilizers. It set out to determine whether the prices are too high.

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said the prices affect not only persons who buy and use the prescription drugs, but to some extent all taxpayers whose money helps support mental hospitals. Some of the more potent tranquilizers are widely used in treating the mentally ill.

Other types of tranquilizer pills are used by millions of Americans to relieve anxiety and tension.

Worship Every Week ---

Pastor Zehner To Present
Sermon at Trinity Lutheran

Worship services in Trinity Lutheran Church will be held at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. tomorrow.

Pastor Carl G. Zehner will present the sermon, "How May I Know I am a Christian?" based on I John 5:13.

The Youth Choir directed by Clifford Kerns will sing "Seek Ye The Lord" with Marilyn Hartman and Paul Barnes, as soloists, at the 8:30 a. m. service. The Adult Choir, directed by Mr. Fred Hebler will sing "Greater Love Hath No Man" with Ed Edert as soloist at the 10:45 a. m. service.

Sunday School will follow the early service at 9:30 a. m.

The nursery will be open during the late service for children up to three years of age.

Services will be held at Christ Church, Lick Run at 2 p. m.

Calvary E.U.B.

"The Necessity of Faithfulness" will be the theme of the message at the Calvary E. U. B. Church during the hour of Worship Sunday morning beginning at 9 a. m.

The Rev. G. H. Niswender will deliver the sermon. Earl Millrons Sunday School Superintendent, will assist in the service. There will be a dedication service of the organ, pulpit furniture and choir seats.

The Scripture lesson will be taken from I Corinthians 4:1-21. The Adult Choir will be singing, "He Is Mine". The Congregation will sing: "Savior, Thy Dying Love", "O Safe to the Rock" and "He Leadeth Me".

The organist, Mrs. Earl Millrons, has announced that she will play: Prelude: "Andantion" by Franck, Offertory: "Bless This House" by Brahe, and the postlude: "Marche Pontificale" by Gounod.

Youth and adult classes will hold their Sunday School Class sessions at 10 a. m.

The Children's Department, in charge of Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, will meet for its classes at 9 a. m. and for worship at 10 a. m. Nursery care is provided during both services.

The Youth Fellowship will meet for their Y-Hour at 6 p. m. in the annex.

First Methodist

Worship services will be held in First Methodist Church at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. tomorrow. The Sunday School classes will meet at 9:30 a. m.

"Good Medicine" will be the subject of the sermon. The congregational hymns will be "O Thou in Whose Presence My Soul Takes Delight," and "Jesus, Still Lead on." The Scripture reading is Matthew 8:1-13. The Youth Choir will provide the anthem for the early service. In the later service the anthem by the Senior Choir will be "He Thawedeth in a Secret Place" by Ballard.

The Chillicothe District Methodist Youth Fellowship Mid-Winter Institute will be held in Chillicothe from 3-7 tomorrow afternoon. Senior Hi people will meet in Trinity Church and Junior Hi in Walnut Street Church. There will be no fellowship meetings in the local Methodist Church.

Presbyterian

"Our Christian Heritage" is the theme for the 10:30 a. m. hour of worship at the Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell will read the Scripture from the first letter of St. Paul to the Church at Corinth which, according to the writer, includes the churches of Circleville. "All that call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord." He also insists that there is nothing that can separate us from the Love of God which is in Christ Jesus, but rather it is the mind of Christ which unites all believers in all generations and in all nations.

Mrs. Clark Will, director of music, will direct the choir in the singing of the anthem: "But the Lord is Mindful of His Own", by Mendelssohn. At the organ, Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will play: "Suite Breve Religieuse" by Bedell; "Arioso in the Ancient Style" by Rogers; "A Mighty Fortress is Our God" by Luther. Hymns will include: "The Church's One Foundation is Jesus Christ Her Lord"; and "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord".

During the worship the pastor will offer prayer in memory of the members of the congregation who have died during the past year. Following the worship the congregation will convene in the social rooms of the church for the annual meeting. At this time elders, deacons and trustees will be elected to fill the vacancies on these boards for the years 1960-63.

Reports will be given by the chairmen of the organizations in the congregation including Sunday School, Women's Association, Westminster Fellowship youth group and others, covering the church work accomplished during the year 1959.

The business of the corporation will be reviewed and the policy of the church approved. The young people of the church will serve coffee.

Christian Union

In the 10:30 a. m. Worship Hour at the Church of Christ in Christian Union, 436 E. Ohio St., Pastor Richard Humble will deliver the message. The children of the junior church will worship with the adults this Sunday and will provide special music.

Sunday School will commence at 9:30 a. m. in every department with the department superintendents in charge.

Youth service, at 6:30 p. m., will be directed by Karen Ayers. Carol Carter, will sing in the service and Mr. W. K. Longacre will be the speaker.

The pastor will be speaking in the Evangelistic Hour which begins at 7:30 p. m.

The Mid-Winter Revival is scheduled to begin Friday, January 29, and continue through February 7. The Rev. Donovan Humble of Pike-ton, superintendent of the South Central District of our denomination, will be the evangelist. The Christian Four Quartet will be singing in each service of this revival.

First E.U.B.

"A Quest For Souls" has been chosen by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs for his sermon subject to be delivered some have imagined in their mind's eye of travel. There is so much that has not been changed. We will visit Damascus and re call that it was here that Saul con founded the Jews proving that Je sus is The Christ.

We will view Jerusalem and nearby places from the 162 foot tower on Mount of Olives. There are many who seek after an earth ly Jerusalem to be their abiding city while they live but they must seek after the city which is to come.

God says "For we have not here and abiding city". Earthly Jerusa lem is marked by many as their abiding quarters after the Lord's second coming but the Bible has no such directions therein. It is the Heavenly city that should be the goal of us all when we finish the last tour in our sojourn here be low. Come early for Bible study at 9:45 a. m.

St. Philips

Theological Education Sunday will be observed at St. Philip's Church on the third Sunday after Epiphany with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a. m. and Morning Prayer and Sermon at 10 a. m.

Theological Education Sunday is customarily observed on the Sunday closest to the Feast of the Con version of St. Paul, which this year falls on Monday, January 25. A special offering will be received and divided between the Philadel phia Divinity School and Bexley Hall, the Episcopal Seminary in Ohio.

Assisting the Rev. William G. Huber with the 10 a. m. service will be Robert N. Call, who will serve as layreader. Acolytes serving at the Morning Prayer Service will be Billy Weldon, Tom Wright and Chip Harrod, with Mike O'Donnell in charge. Serving at 8 a. m. Holy Communion will be John Wright and Douglas Thompson.

Miss Lois Wittich will sing "How Beautiful Are the Feet of Them" from the "Messiah" by Handel at the Offertory during the late service. Hymns to be sung will include the following: "God of the Prophets", "We Sing the Glorious Conquest", and "Rise Up, O Men of God". Mrs. Betty Goodman will be the organist.

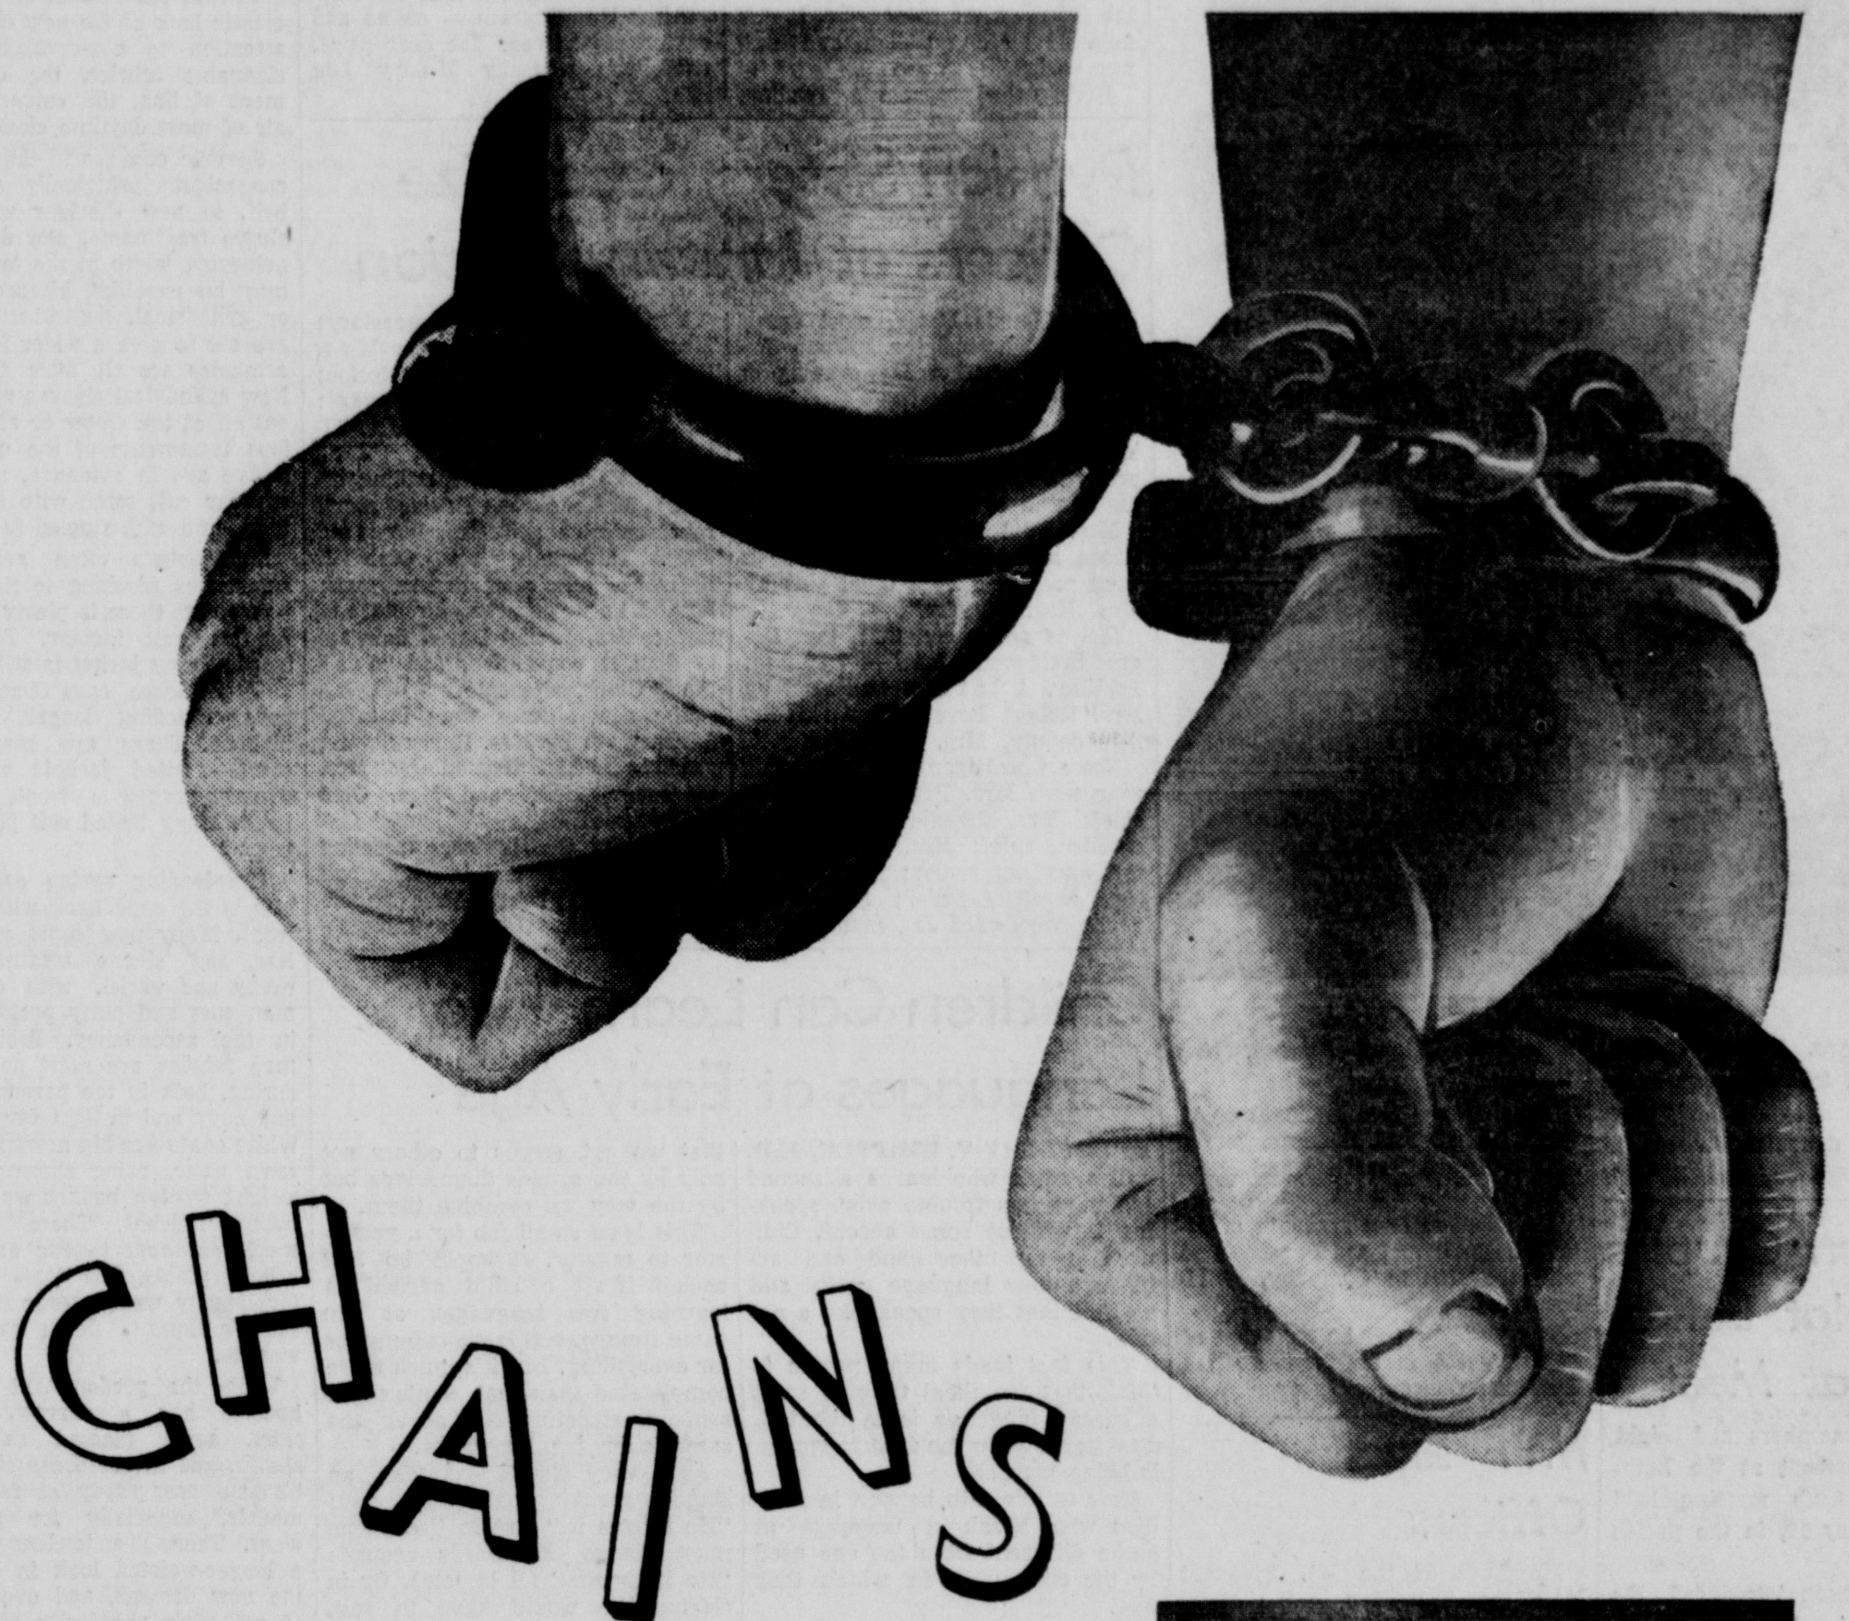

Gospel Center

Sunday School will convene at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow with classes for all ages at the Gospel Center. The Worship Service will start at 10:30 a. m. with the Rev. S. Metz ler filling his pulpit after a mission ary tour in South America.

The Youth Fellowship meeting will be held at 6:30 p. m. followed by Evangelistic Service at 7:30 p. m. Prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

A HAT CHECK by the Millinery Institute of America reveals these four females are among the seven best hatted women in America. They are shown at a luncheon in New York. From left: Joan Crawford, featuring four cyclamen roses in organdy; Mrs. Eleanor Searle Whitney, topped by a fedora in mink; Betsy Palmer, wearing a fluffy black knit bouffant job; Celeste Holm, sporting a satin-banded black fox toque.

These hands might have painted the world's greatest masterpiece. These hands might have played faultlessly the most difficult concerto. These hands might have mixed a compound that would destroy disease. These hands might have been raised in blessing over a trusting mankind.

Instead they are chained. Somewhere, somehow, they failed. Perhaps they reached over a counter and stealthily snatched a jewel. Perhaps they searched a safe and took what other hands had worked for. Perhaps they held the gun that wiped out a life. Somewhere they went wrong. Somewhere they failed.

Hands do not act by themselves. Personalities control them—personalities swayed by impulses and convictions, good and bad. The Church, your Church, is waiting to guide hands, minds, hearts and lives. Here good impulses, right convictions are born and nurtured. Here, in God's House, hands learn to move aright to find life's work, unchained and triumphant.

Make Church - Going a Habit

Worship Every Week --

Pastor Zehner To Present Sermon at Trinity Lutheran

Worship services in Trinity Lutheran Church will be held at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. tomorrow.

Pastor Carl G. Zehner will present the sermon, "How May I Know I am a Christian?" based on I John 5:13.

The Youth Choir directed by Clifford Kerns will sing "Seek Ye The Lord" with Marilyn Hartman and Paul Barnes, as soloists, at the 8:30 a. m. service. The Adult Choir, directed by Mr. Fred Hebler will sing "Greater Love Hath No Man" with Ed Edert as soloist at the 10:45 a. m. service.

Sunday School will follow the early service at 9:30 a. m.

The nursery will be open during the late service for children up to three years of age.

Services will be held at Christ Church, Lick Run at 2 p. m.

Calvary E.U.B.

"The Necessity of Faithfulness" will be the theme of the message at the Calvary E. U. B. Church during the hour of Worship Sunday morning beginning at 9 a. m.

The Rev. G. H. Niswender will deliver the sermon, Earl Millrons Sunday School Superintendent, will assist in the service. There will be a dedication service of the organ, pulpit furniture and choir seats.

The Scripture lesson will be taken from I Corinthians 4:1-21. The Adult Choir will be singing, "He Is Mine". The Congregation will sing: "Savior, Thy Dying Love", "O Safe to the Rock" and "He Leadeth Me".

The organist, Mrs. Earl Millrons, has announced that she will play: Prelude: "Andantion" by Franck, Offertory: "Bless This House" by Brahe, and the postlude: "Marche Pontificale" by Gounod.

Youth and adult classes will hold their Sunday School Class sessions at 10 a. m.

The Children's Department, in charge of Mrs. W. C. Shasteen, will meet for its classes at 9 a. m. and for worship at 10 a. m.

Nursery care is provided during both services.

The Youth Fellowship will meet for their Y-Hour at 6 p. m. in the annex.

First Methodist

Worship services will be held in First Methodist Church at 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. tomorrow. The Sunday School classes will meet at 9:30 a. m.

"Good Medicine" will be the subject of the sermon. The congregational hymns will be "Mid all the Traffic of Our Ways," "O Thou in Whose Presence My Soul Takes Delight," and "Jesus, Still Lead on." The Scripture reading is Matthew 8:1-13. The Youth Choir will provide the anthem for the early service. In the later service the anthem by the Senior Choir will be "He That Dwelleth in a Secret Place" by Ballard.

The Chillicothe District Methodist Youth Fellowship Mid-Winter Institute will be held in Chillicothe from 3-7 tomorrow afternoon. Senior Hi people will meet in Trinity Church and Junior Hi in Walnut Street Church. There will be no fellowship meetings in the local Methodist Church.

Presbyterian

"Our Christian Heritage" is the theme for the 10:30 a. m. hour of worship at the Presbyterian Church tomorrow morning.

The Rev. Mr. Mitchell will read the Scripture from the first letter of St. Paul to the Church at Corinth which, according to the writer, includes the churches of Circleville. "All that call upon the name of Jesus Christ our Lord." He also insists that there is nothing that can separate us from the Love of God which is in Christ Jesus, but rather it is the mind of Christ which unites all believers in all generations and in all nations.

Mrs. Clark Will, director of music, will direct the choir in the singing of the anthem: "But the Lord is Mindful of His Own", by Mendelssohn. At the organ, Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will play: "Suite Breve Religieuse" by Bedell; "Arioso in the Ancient Style" by Rogers; "A Mighty Fortress is Our God" by Luther. Hymns will include: "The Church's One Foundation is Jesus Christ Her Lord"; and "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord".

During the worship the pastor will offer prayer in memory of the members of the congregation who have died during the past year. Following the worship the congregation will convene in the social rooms of the church for the annual meeting. At this time elders, deacons and trustees will be elected to fill the vacancies on these boards for the years 1960-63.

Reports will be given by the chairmen of the organizations in the congregation including Sunday School, Women's Association, Westminster Fellowship youth group and others, covering the church work accomplished during the year 1959.

The business of the corporation will be reviewed and the policy of the church approved. The young people of the church will serve coffee.

Christian Union

In the 10:30 a. m. Worship Hour at the Church of Christ in Christian Union, 436 E. Ohio St., Pastor Richard Humble will deliver the message. The children of the junior church will worship with the adults this Sunday and will provide special music.

Sunday School will commence at 9:30 a. m. in every department with the department superintendents in charge.

Youth service, at 6:30 p. m., will be directed by Karen Ayers. Carol Carter, will sing in the service and Mr. W. K. Longacre will be the speaker.

The pastor will be speaking in the Evangelistic Hour which begins at 7:30 p. m.

The Mid-Winter Revival is scheduled to begin Friday, January 29, and continue through February 7. The Rev. Donovan Humble of Pike-ton, superintendent of the South Central District of our denomination, will be the evangelist. The Christian Four Quartet will be singing in each service of this revival.

First E.U.B.

"A Quest For Souls" has been chosen by the Rev. O. F. Gibbs for his sermon subject to be delivered

Sunday morning in First Evangelical United Brethren Church. The service begins at 9:30 a. m.

The Senior Choir, directed by Montford Kirkwood Jr., will sing, "Beloved, Let us Love One Another" (arr. by Wilson). Miss Lucille Kirkwood, organist, will play the following numbers: prelude, "Legend" (Rogers); offertory, "A Melody of Peace" (Holt); and postlude, "Rejoice Greatly" (Andre). Hymns to be sung by the congregation include, "Christ Receiveth 'Sinful Men'", "Ye must Be Born Again", and "I am Thine, O Lord". Edwin Richardson will assist the pastor in the Worship Service.

Pioneer Day will be observed in the morning services. Pioneer Day is a special day in our church year which seeks to emphasize anew the redemptive mission of the church and to pay our respects to the ministers of the cross who have been ordained "to go down to this world of men." We owe these servants of God a debt of honor. Beginning January 1st, 1960, the Evangelical United Brethren Church, in line with other denominations, inaugurated an enlarged pension program in order to provide more adequately for our retired ministers and for the ministers' widows and orphans.

Sunday School in our children's department will convene in the service center at 9:25 a. m. with Mrs. Robert Dumm and Miss Virginia Wise in charge. Church School in our youth and adult departments will meet following the worship service. Nursery care is provided during both the worship and Sunday School with Mrs. Billy Lockard, superintendent, in charge.

Church of Christ

As we open the Bible we begin to travel. This Sunday at 10:30 a. m. service at the Church of Christ, you are invited to go on tour with us to "The Lands of the Bible" which will be the theme for our mental journey presented by Jack Rankin, Minister.

Most of the Bible, and much other history, was enacted in a relatively small area of the earth's land. The lands are not flat as some have imagined in their mind's eye of travel. There is so much that has not been changed.

We will visit Damascus and recall that it was here that Saul founded the Jews proving that Jesus is The Christ.

We will view Jerusalem and nearby places from the 162 foot tower on Mount of Olives. There are many who seek after an earthly Jerusalem to be their abiding city while they live but they must seek after the city which is to come.

God says "For we have not here and abiding city". Earthly Jerusalem is marked by many as their abiding quarters after the Lord's second coming but the Bible has no such directions therein. It is the Heavenly city that should be the goal of us all when we finish the last tour in our sojourn here below. Come early for Bible study at 9:45 a. m.

St. Philips

Theological Education Sunday will be observed at St. Philip's Church on the third Sunday after Epiphany with a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8 a. m. and Morning Prayer and Sermon at 10 a. m.

Theological Education Sunday is customarily observed on the Sunday closest to the Feast of the Conversion of St. Paul, which this year falls on Monday, January 25. A special offering will be received and divided between the Philadelphia Divinity School and Bexley Hall, the Episcopal Seminary in Ohio.

Assisting the Rev. William G. Huber with the 10 a. m. service will be Robert N. Call, who will serve as layreader. Acolytes serving at the Morning Prayer Service will be Billy Weldon, Tom Wright and Chip Harrod, with Mike O'Donnell in charge. Serving at 8 a. m. Holy Communion will be John Wright and Douglas Thompson.

Miss Lois Wittich will sing "How Beautiful Are the Feet of Them" from the "Messiah" by Handel at the Offertory during the late service. Hymns to be sung will include the following: "God of the Prophets", "We Sing the Glorious Conquest", and "Rise Up, O Men of God". Mrs. Betty Goodman will be the organist.

Gospel Center

Sunday School will convene at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow with classes for all ages at the Gospel Center. The Worship Service will start at 10:30 a. m. with the Rev. S. Metzler filling his pulpit after a missionary tour in South America.

The Youth Fellowship meeting will be held at 6:30 p. m. followed by Evangelistic Service at 7:30 p. m.

Prayer meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

A HAT CHECK by the Millinery Institute of America reveals these four females are among the seven best hatted women in America. They are shown at a luncheon in New York. From left: Joan Crawford, featuring four cyclamen roses in organza; Mrs. Eleanor Searle Whitney, topped by a fedora in mink; Betsy Palmer, wearing a fluffy black knit bouffant job; Celeste Holm, sporting a satin-banded black fox toque.

Following the business meeting a lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Young, Mrs. Nannie Davis and Miss Clarissa Talbot.

Children Can Learn Two Languages at Early Age

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

The adult who learns a second language has trouble ever speaking it without some accent. Children on the other hand can acquire a new language easily and so well that they speak like a native.

This fact leads many people to think that the ideal time to start a second language is in the toddler stage when the first language is being learned.

This is likely to happen in families who speak a language at home different from the one used by the community in which they live.

Experts in the field of speech think that presenting a child just learning to talk with two ways of saying everything he would like to communicate slows the child down and in the long run may interfere with his full use of any language.

Let a child, these experts agree, learn one language well enough so that he has a real concept of the value of communication before you confuse him with another way of getting his ideas across.

In early babyhood a child experiments with all manner of sounds — all the sounds a human being is capable of making, many more than he will ever use for any single language. Before he is a year old a baby can say expertly a German "ich" or a French "tu" as well as the difficult English "th."

But when this child begins to copy the speech about him he stops practicing those sounds which do not occur in his own language. After a while (10 years or so) he finds it hard to recapture his baby ability to make his tongue and lips and throat go the way they did during his early experiments.

But most anytime below the age of 10 a child can make any sounds he hears with extraordinary accuracy. Language, however, is far more than the ability to make sounds. Language is really a very complicated thing when you come to think about it. We use sounds not only to mean things, but to mean how we feel and what we think and what we do. And we have all sorts of subtle shades of meaning that we get across to others not only by the sounds themselves but by the way we combine them.

This is no small job for a youngster to master. It would be bad enough if all a child needed in learning two languages at the same time was to learn two names for everything. But it's much more complicated than that. Syntax and sentence structure are never the same in any two languages.

As a very simple example, an English speaking baby might say: "He throws it." But in French he must change the words around: "He it throws" (Il la jete). Or in German he would have to say, "The ball throws he" (Den Ball kastet er).

If Bobby has to do this, it's small wonder that he throws the ball a long time before he talks about it. Talking is so difficult that he does not bother with it — in any language.

If yours is a two-language home, try to teach your child one language only until he is about 5 years old. For a child who talks early and well you might possibly reduce this to 3 years but not below this.

Then if you have the chance, teach him a second language. Let him learn it through his ears as he did the first one and he will grow up speaking both languages fluently and well.

He will have the desire and ability to communicate firmly established before he discovers that it can be done in a completely different way.

Sleeves To Be Main Feature in Spring Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

There's an international look to 1960 spring fashions, planned not only for a new season and a new year, but also for a new decade.

New York designers, currently previewing spring collections, keep the new concepts of world travel firmly in mind in presenting clothes for today's globe-trotting American women. The successful wardrobe of the Sixties must be at home anywhere in the world, because today's jet travel has made every corner of the earth as accessible as the next town used to be.

This is the reason for the easy, classic look of the new clothes, the attention to non-crushable, easily cleanable fabrics, the understatement of line, the correctly casual air of most daytime clothes.

Specific changes in the silhouette concentrate principally above the belt, in new shoulder width, new sleeve treatments, new devices for achieving width at the top. Sleeves may be capelike, kimono, dolman or cylindrical, but most of them are cut to give a wider look. Deep armholes are all over the place. New cylindrical sleeves usually are cut off at the elbow or above. Various treatments of the capelet sleeve are in evidence, some with circular cut, some with fine pleating, some with rippled fullness.

Suit jackets often are longer, sometimes reaching to the hips or below, but there is plenty of choice for the suit fancier. The wasit-length, boxy jacket is still present, as is the loose, easy Chanel jacket, never reaching longer than the hipbone. There are many brief, semi-fitted jackets which are slightly shaped in front, loose in back. Many belted suit jackets are seen.

The leading spring coat silhouette is the cape back with straight front. Many new coats are collarless, and sleeve treatments are many and varied, with deep dolman cuts and puffy push-up styles in the ascendancy. Ribbed ottoman fabrics are most popular for spring, both in the perennial black and navy and in light bisque tones. White coats are big news for spring town wear, being shown in lightweight woolen basket weaves and nubby finishes. There also are many oat-meat tweeds and white-ground plaids. Sild coats are seen for lateday wear, some in handsome antique-finish raw silk weaves.

While the predominant suit silhouette has a narrow, tapered skirt, some pleated skirts are shown, and in the dress collections there are plenty of full-skirted models, especially for after-five wear. There's a tendency toward a longer-waisted look in many of the new dresses, and even a hint of returning popularity of the unbelted dress. One new line has an easy long-waisted, bloused top and a pleated skirt.

Evening fashions are daringly low-cut, with the honors shared between the full-length, draped evening gown and the short, full-skirted dance dress. Dinner and theater suits are still popular.

Drama Group Discusses the Play, 'J.B.'

Mrs. Austin Dowden, Route 2, was hostess to members of the Drama Group of the AAUW in her home Thursday evening.

The book under discussion was "J.B." by Archibald MacLeish. The group saw the play at the Hartman Theatre, Columbus, last week.

The next meeting, February 18, will be held in the home of Mrs. Robert Smith, Route 4. "Corn Is Green" by Emlin Williams will be the book under discussion. The leader will be Mrs. Maynard Slack.

MYF To Sponsor Smorgasbord Here

The Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist Church will sponsor a Smorgasbord from 5-7 p. m. Thursday in the church basement instead of 7 p. m. as incorrectly reported in The Herald.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

They Could Be Called Worse!

DEAR ABBY: I am a 59-year-old man and I am beginning to wonder if some men will ever grow up. I am constantly meeting grown men with families who are still called by their boyish names, such as Bobby, Billy and Jimmy. They don't like to be called Bob, Bill or Jim.

One man down the street has eight children and they still call him Johnny. I can understand why a man wouldn't care to use the formal Robert, William or James, but why must they go back to their baby days with Bobby, Billy and Jimmy? I got this off my chest, but not off my mind.

RAYMOND

DEAR RAYMOND: Most people are helpless in such matters. Acquaintances simply hang these names on them and they are stuck with them. Save your sympathy for those poor souls who are still called "Sonny," "Buddy" and "Junior."

DEAR ABBY: Why does everybody knock television? As far as I am concerned, I think television has probably saved more marriages than anyone will ever know. In my own case, television keeps my husband home nights. So what if he does drool when he looks at some doll spraying her hair? He can't get to her.

Also, when my husband and I don't have too much to say to each other, we can both sit there and pass the time away.

FOR TV

DEAR ABBY: Is it normal for a 17-year-old girl to like a fellow very much until she finds out he likes her, too? That's always been my problem. I can go out with a fellow and like him very much, but the minute he tells me he likes (or loves) me I don't care for him any more. This happens to every boy I go with. I am getting worried about my attitude. Please give me some advice.

DEAR AGAINST: Your attitude

Mrs. C. Cook Hosts Sorority

Members of the Kappa Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met in the home of Mrs. Clyde Cook Jr., 306 Northridge Road, Thursday evening with Mrs. Jack Akline as co-hostess.

Contests were won by Mrs. Miles Reefer and Mrs. Charles Ried. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at the close of the evening.

Those present were Mrs. Reber Bell, Mrs. Frank Boyer, Mrs. Walter Fisher, Miss Mary McLaughlin, Mrs. Reefer, Mrs. Ried, Mrs. Robert Russell, Mrs. Thomas Shea, Mrs. Robert Wilkinson and the hostesses.

Parent Talent Show Is Feature at Local PTA Meet

Parents Talent Night highlighted the program at the Walnut-Court PTA meeting held Thursday evening in the Court St. building.

The meeting was called to order and opened with prayer by Mrs. Russell Skaggs. It was announced that candy is still available.

Plans were made for a card party to be held in February. The committees were appointed.

A motion was made to hold a carry-in supper at the March PTA meeting. The program will be in charge of the children.

The 85 persons present were reminded to contribute to the blood mobile at its next stop here.

Mr. George Hartman, superintendent of city schools, addressed the group on the bond issue. It was followed by a question and answer period.

During the program a reading, "Dinner on the Table" was given by Mrs. Russell Skaggs.

A Kitchen Band composed of Mr. Wilson Wood, Mrs. Charles Sabine, Mrs. Allen Ankrom, Mrs. Ralph Ankrom, Mrs. Paul Smith, Mrs. Carl Kegg, Mrs. Jerry Robbins, Mrs. Russell Skaggs, Mrs. Eugene Siniff, Mrs. Jack Black, Mrs. Glen Justice and accompanied by Mrs. Jack Heeter, played several numbers.

A banjo solo was presented by Jack Black followed by a banjo and ukulele duet by Mr. Black and Jack Heeter.

Several songs were sung by a barbershop quartette made up of Ralph Ankrom, Allen Ankrom, Charles Sabine and Glen Justice.

After the program — coffee and cake were served. The door prize, cake, was won by Mary Lou Skaggs.

Pythian Sisters Recognize Officers at January Session

Mrs. Nannie Davis, most excellent chief, opened the Pythian Sisters meeting Thursday evening in the K of P Hall.

Twenty-four sisters and a knight, W. E. Reichelderfer, were present. A donation was made to the March of Dimes Campaign.

Mrs. Paul Turner, Mrs. Roy Groce and Miss Margie Carmean were presented Past Chief pins by Mrs. Harry Stiers.

It was announced that the Degree Staff would meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. A letter was read by Mrs. Robert Lovett from the district deputy, Mrs. Hugh Huffer.

Those who began their office this year were Mrs. Paul Turner, past chief; Mrs. Nannie Davis, most excellent chief; Mrs. Allen Strawser, excellent senior; Mrs. Ronald Nau, excellent junior; and Mrs. Frank Woodward Jr., manager.

Mrs. Robert Lovett, secretary; Mrs. Roy Groce, treasurer; Mrs. W. E. Reichelderfer, protector; Mrs. Katherine L. Mead, guard; Margie Carmean, pianist; Mrs. Allen Strawser, trustee.

The new officers were installed January 7th by Mrs. Harry Stiers, grand chief, assisted by Mrs. Clarence Radcliff and Mrs. Olan V. Bostwick.

Following the business meeting a lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Young, Mrs. Nannie Davis and Miss Clarissa Talbut.

Children Can Learn Two Languages at Early Age

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The adult who learns a second language has trouble ever speaking it without some accent. Children on the other hand can acquire a new language easily and so well that they speak like a native.

This fact leads many people to think that the ideal time to start a second language is in the toddler stage when the first language is being learned.

This is likely to happen in families who speak a language at home different from the one used by the community in which they live.

Experts in the field of speech think that presenting a child just learning to talk with two ways of saying everything he would like to communicate slows the child down and in the long run may interfere with his full use of any language.

Let a child, these experts agree, learn one language well enough so that he has a real concept of the value of communication before you confuse him with another way of getting his ideas across.

In early babyhood a child experiments with all manner of sounds — all the sounds a human being is capable of making, many more than he will ever use for any single language. Before he is a year old a baby can say expertly a German "ich" or a French "tu" as well as the difficult English "th." But when this child begins to copy the speech about him he stops practicing those sounds which do not occur in his own language.

After a while (10 years or so) he finds it hard to recapture his baby ability to make his tongue and lips and throat go the way they did during his early experiments.

But most anytime below the age of 10 a child can make any sounds he hears with extraordinary accuracy.

Language, however, is far more than the ability to make sounds. Language is really a very complicated thing when you come to think about it. We use sounds not only to mean things, but to mean how we feel and what we think and what we do. And we have all sorts of subtle shades of meaning that we get across to others not only by the sounds themselves but by the way we combine them.

This is no small job for a youngster to master. It would be bad enough if all a child needed in learning two languages at the same time was to learn two names for everything. But it's much more complicated than that. Syntax and sentence structure are never the same in any two languages.

As a very simple example, an English speaking baby might say: "He throws it." But in French he must change the words around: "He it throws" (Il la jete). Or in German he would have to say: "The ball throws he" (Den ball kastet er).

If Bobby has to do this, it's small wonder that he throws the ball a long time before he talks about it. Talking is so difficult that he does not bother with it—in any language.

If yours is a two-language home, try to teach your child one language only until he is about 5 years old. For a child who talks early and well you might possibly reduce this to 3 years but not below this.

Then if you have the chance, teach him a second language. Let him learn it through his ears as he did the first one and he will grow up speaking both languages fluently and well.

He will have the desire and ability to communicate firmly established before he discovers that it can be done in a completely different way.

Sleeves To Be Main Feature in Spring Fashions

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
There's an international look to 1960 spring fashions, planned not only for a new season and a new year, but also for a new decade.

New York designers, currently previewing spring collections, keep the new concepts of world travel firmly in mind in presenting clothes for today's globe-trotting American women. The successful wardrobe of the Sixties must be at home anywhere in the world, because today's jet travel has made every corner of the earth as accessible as the next town used to be.

This is the reason for the easy, classic look of the new clothes, the attention to non-crushable, easily cleanable fabrics, the understatement of line, the correctly casual air of most daytime clothes.

Specific changes in the silhouette concentrate principally above the belt, in new shoulder width, new sleeve treatments, new devices for achieving width at the top. Sleeves may be capelike, kimono, dolman or cylindrical, but most of them are cut to give a wider look. Deep armholes are all over the place. New cylindrical sleeves usually are cut off at the elbow or above. Various treatments of the capelike sleeve are in evidence, some with circular cut, some with fine pleating, some with ruffled flounces.

Suit jackets often are longer, sometimes reaching to the hips or below, but there is plenty of choice for the suit fancier. The waist-length, boxy jacket is still present, as is the loose, easy Chanel jacket, never reaching longer than the hipbone. There are many brief, semi-fitted jackets which are slightly shaped in front, loose in back. Many belted suit jackets are seen.

The leading spring coat silhouette is the cape back with straight front. Many new coats are collarless, and sleeve treatments are many and varied, with deep dolman cuts and puffy push-up styles in the ascendancy. Ribbed ottoman fabrics are most popular for spring, both in the perennial black and navy and in light bisque tones. White coats are big news for spring town wear, being shown in lightweight woolen basket weaves and nubby finishes. There also are many oat-meat tweeds and white-ground plaids. Silk coats are seen for lateday wear, some in handsome antique-finish raw silk weaves.

While the predominant suit silhouette has a narrow, tapered skirt, some pleated skirts are shown, and in the dress collections there are plenty of full-skirted models, especially for after-five wear. There's a tendency toward a longer-waisted look in many of the new dresses, and even a hint of returning popularity of the unbelted dress. One new line has an easy long-waisted, bloused top and a pleated skirt.

Bronco Five Edges Deers

Myers Nets 29 In Thriller

Ashville had the fight of its life last night as host Williamsport put up a great battle before falling to the Broncos Tom Rathburn, Bobby Hoover and company, 62-54.

The Deers were within three points of Ashville, 53-50, with 1 1/2 minutes left in the contest, but couldn't halt the passing off of Hoover and the light-fingered touch of Rathburn.

Attempting to play Ashville's brand of race-horse ball in the early moments of the game, Williamsport fell behind 18-9 at the first quarter mark although stalling the last 2 1/2 minutes.

Settling down and moving Pickaway County's leading scorer, David Myers, to the outside, away from the defending of Rathburn and Hoover, the Deers made a game of it.

MYERS FINISHED the night with 29 points for scoring honors, followed by Hoover's 24 and Rathburn's 18. Myers racked up 22 of his points in the second half from all over the floor.

Hoover and Rathburn concentrated their scoring under the buckets. Ashville completed the game with a 42 per cent field goal average, connecting on 26 of 62.

Williamsport came back with 20 of 66 for 30 per cent. The Deers bested Ashville at the foul line, hitting 14 of 18 for 77 per cent while the Broncos netted 10 of 21 for 47 per cent.

David Humphrey was the thorn in the Bronco side as he swished eight of his 14 points in the final quarter, loosening up the Ashville defenses underneath and sending Myers into the open.

This was the Deers' sixth loss, all under 12 points. They have won nine. Ashville raised its slate to 12-2 and maintained its county league lead with a perfect 6-0 slate. The Deers fell into a fourth place tie with Saltcreek with 4-1 slates.

Ashville won the reserve tilt, 57-44, for its seventh victory against five losses. Williamsport boasts an 8-5 record.

Three H's Lead Walnut Over Monroe

Walnut retained runner-up position in the Pickaway County League race with a convincing 79-49 victory over host Monroe last night.

Behind the triple threat scoring of the three "H's", the Tigers moved to a 16-10 first period score and were never headed.

Gary Hoover took scoring honors for the evening with 23 points, closely followed by Tom Harber's 19 and Bill Hoover's 21. Steve Fullen led Monroe with 21 points from the pivot position.

Walnut is now 5-1 league play to hold a second place tie with Darby. Overall it is 7-4. Monroe remains in a four-way tie for seventh place and stands 3-12 on the year.

Monroe grabbed the consolation contest, 45-38, for its sixth victory against seven defeats. Walnut was losing its eighth compared to one win.

Centralia Wins, 63-50

Ross County's leading scorer, Sonny Harrison, led his Centralia quintet to a 63-50 win last night over invading Buckskin.

Harrison netted 11 of 18 field goal attempts for 61 per cent, plus six free throws, for 28 points as the Bulldogs evened their season slate at 7-7.

Top man for Buckskin was Webb with 14 points followed by Benner with 13. Though smaller in size, Centralia's Harrison and Haynes grabbed 18 and 15 rebounds respectively.

Centralia hit 28 of 56 from the floor for a 50 per cent shooting average. Buckskin downed the Bulldog junior varsity, 30-24. It was Centralia's third loss against nine wins.

Tiger Loss at Wilmington Brings 3-Way Tie Again

Wilmington played the role of giant killer for the second week in a row by twisting the tail of the visiting Circleville Tigers last night, 54-46.

The Hurricane win again snarled the South Central Ohio League standings into a three-way dead lock for the second time this season between Circleville, Wilmington and Greenfield, each with 6-2 records.

Greenfield tripped visiting Franklin Heights last night, 73-53, to stay in the thick of the loop fight. Last week Wilmington bounced Greenfield 68-63.

Circleville's trip to Wilmington hit a sour note in the third quarter when the locals tallied only eight points compared to 19 for the Hurricane. Six of the enemy points came in rapid succession with only 20 seconds left in the period.

THE TIGERS fought back gamely but could not overcome a 43-25 deficit which hung like a heavy cloud as the third canto came to an end. The CHS force spurred to life in the final chapter to score 21 points and hold Wilmington to 11, but the curtain closed too soon for the 11th hour rally.

The Red and Black Bengals roared into the Clinton County city with a lot at stake. They saw their fine 6-1 SCO record suddenly dip to 6-2. The Hurricane cagers also realized the importance of the test, for they were fighting to keep their championship hopes alive.

Both teams played it cautious in the opening period hoping to find a possible weakness. The quarter ended with Wilmington leading, 9-6.

Action reached a quicker pace in the second quarter with the hosts scoring 15 points and Circleville 11 to give the Hurricane a 24-17 halftime advantage.

Disaster struck in the third frame as Wilmington went on its scoring binge. Main thorn in the side was Keith Gregory who tallied 10 of his team's 19 points for the quarter. Most of his success was on a deadly one-hander from the side.

Several reasons seemed to play a part in the Circleville defeat. For one the Tigers were able to collect only 20 of 38 chances at the foul line.

ANOTHER obstacle presented itself in the way of turnovers on bad passes, bobbles, walking and other infractions. The locals handed the ball over 12 times in the first half and the number was about the same in the second two quarters.

However, all was not dark for the Tigers. Bob Shadley led all scoring for the evening with 15 points. Jake Bailey turned in 11 markers and added his usual brand of fiery play from the floor.

Larry Hannahs tipped the scales with 10 points and came through with some solid rebounding. Dave Hicks connected on one of his few tries from the field and made good on five free throws for seven points.

Linden Gibson potted three of four foul tosses and Sam Weller did his share of work underneath the buckets.

For Wilmington it was a measure of revenge for the 70-59 defeat suffered here Jan. 8. The Hurricane displayed some sharp ballhandling and accurate shooting to retain its advanced billing as a team tough

Kingston Falls to Frankfort

Unable to stop the sensational play of Carvel Simmons, Kingston went down to its sixth defeat at the hands of host Frankfort, 75-67, last night.

Although screened away from the bucket, Simmons put on quite a dazzling outside shooting spree to tally 33 points and completely wreck any Redskin hopes of an upset.

Frankfort got the edge on Kingston in the initial stanza, 24-12, from which the Redskins never recovered. They were down 21 points in the second period and rallied to within two points late in the second period and rallied to within two points late in the fourth period before Frankfort capitalized on a one-and-one situation and stalled out the battle.

Three men were tied with 19 points each. They were Kingston's David Nogle and Bill Carman and Frankfort's Hamman. Kingston hit 28 of 84 field goal attempts for 33 per cent while Frankfort retaliated with 28 of 61 for 46 per cent.

The Redskins are now 8-6 overall while Frankfort sports a 9-2 record. Frankfort won the reserve game, 52-28, handing the Redskins their sixth loss against a like number of wins.

The Quaker City cagers went into a quick lead on jump shots by Walt Simkins and Dwight Wallace. Shadley opened scoring for CHS a few seconds later but Wilmington surged ahead on two fast-break scores by Wallace.

DETERMINED to unseat the first place Tigers, the hosts held onto their narrow early stage lead behind the efforts of Marvin and Keith Gregory, Jim Kidd, Simkins and Wallace.

With the second quarter ticking away, Bailey suddenly found the range for seven straight points to narrow the Hurricane lead to 16-15. It was the closest Circleville came to deadlocking the score for the remainder of the game.

Bailey swished a long one to start the third quarter and led Wilmington's lead to 24-19. Keith Gregory and Wallace were quick to retaliate with buckets for the hosts.

Shadley's jump shot and Hannahs' two buckets from underneath were the best Circleville could do for the rest of the disastrous third quarter.

The last quarter surge saw Shadley collect 10 of the 21 points. The Tigers garnered 11 of their total at the foul line, after having trouble hitting the charities early in the game.

Another factor in the Tiger defeat was shooting from the field. The locals netted 13 of 47 tries for a low 27.6 per cent. Wilmington chalked a sizzling 45.4 per cent on 24 of 53. The hosts made six fouls and missed nine.

Darby Downs Pirates, 84-44; Walters and Vance Pave Way

Not to be counted out of the Pickaway County League race, Darby last night bounced invading Pickaway, 84-44, to retain a share of second place with Walnut.

Having no mercy on the inexperienced Pirates, the Trojans rolled to win No. 7 against five losses, while Pickaway dropped contest No. 13 compared to a lone victory.

Tommy Walters led the Darby assault with 25 points on deadly one-handed jump shots from all over the court. Teammate Jerry Vance, improving of late, contributed 23 markers from his center slot.

The game marked the return of Alvin Cox, last year an accurate corner shot artist that aided in running up Darby's best record in its history of 19-2. He dumped in nine points and is expected to considerably add to the Trojan surge for a repeat as a county league champion.

HIGH man for Pickaway was Ronnie Jacobs, with 10 points. He picked up the scoring lack of Ralph England who is expected to return to the squad soon.

The Pirates captured the junior varsity encounter, 50-30, for its seventh win against five losses. Darby remains winless with a 0-10 slate.

Atlanta Nips Jackson Five

Atlanta rose to sixth place in the Pickaway County League standings last night with a narrow 57-52 victory over host Jackson.

The Red Raiders, trailing 20-14 at the end of the first quarter, had a big second period to offset the Jackson margin and went on to rack up a 2-4 league slate.

Ronnie Morris paved the way for Atlanta with 24 points from his pivot position. High man for the Wildcats was Milton Martindale with 16 markers.

A total of 25 fouls were called 12 on Atlanta and 13 against Jackson. The Red Raiders are now 6-9 on the year. Jackson stands 1-5 in the league and 5-9 overall.

The Wildcats reserves chalked up win No. 5 against seven losses in downing Atlanta, 38-28. Atlanta lost its eighth tilt against five wins.

8th Grade Suffers Wilmington Loss

Circleville's 8th grade cage squad dropped a thrilling 31-30 test with Wilmington here Thursday.

Wilmington led in the early stage, but the locals came back in the final quarter to knot the count and then take a lead with only seconds remaining.

The winners pulled the game out with two last-ditch foul shots. Dave Dennis led local scoring with eight points. Rudd had seven. Rusty Merker was high for Wilmington with 10.

Big 'O' Faces Scoring Test

Cincy, Duquesne Due For Battle Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati's Bearcats, with Oscar Robertson aiming for the first of two big records he should nail within the next 10 days, play at Duquesne tonight in a bid to hold their ranking as the country's best college basketball team over onrushing Bradley.

It may take the Big O at his point-making best to overcome the renewed credentials tossed at the Bearcats by second-ranked Bradley in the Braves' 86-65 rout of tough Notre Dame at Chicago Stadium Friday night.

Robertson's first target is the major college three-year scoring record of 2,538 points set by Frank Selvy of Furman in 1954. Oscar needs 46 to set a new one.

At the same time, All-America Oscar is just 95 points away from breaking the all-time career scoring mark for major college players of 2,587 points set in four seasons by Wake Forest's Dickie Hemric in 1955.

After tonight, Cincinnati plays The Citadel at Cincinnati Jan. 29 and Drake at Cincinnati Feb. 1. According to Robertson's current pace of 37.9 points a game, he should break the Selvy record either tonight or next Friday against The Citadel, and the Hemric mark against Drake.

Tied in with Robertson's individual performances is the hot duel between Cincinnati and Bradley, both of the Missouri Valley Conference, for the No. 1 national ranking.

Both have a 13-1 record with a victory and a loss to the other. The Bearcats spilled Bradley at Cincinnati 86-71 in December before Bradley rocketed up to the No. 2 ranking with a 91-90 victory at its Peoria, Ill., court last Saturday.

Seventh-ranked Utah, the only other top 10 team in action, kept on Utah State's heels in the Skyline Conference race with a 76-69 victory over Brigham Young. It gave the Utes a 4-1 Skyline mark and a 14-2 overall record.

Pickerington Tops Indians

Stoutsville sunk lower in the Fairfield County League race last night as host Pickerington handed the Indians a 57-48 defeat.

It was Stoutsville's third loss and second in a row after running up 10 victories. Picktown was never headed after taking an early lead in the second period. The score was tied at the first period mark, 15-15.

Pickerington held a 32-27 halftime advantage and soared to a 45-35 third-quarter lead. The Indians rallied in the final period, but fell short of gaining the win.

Steve Strome, Picktown's great center, led all scorers with 24 points from the key slot. Bobby Sells was high man for Stoutsville with 13 points. Pickerington is now 12-2 on the season.

The Picktown Tigers made it a double win by dumping the Indians reserve unit, 45-26. It was Stoutsville's sixth loss against five wins.

Warriors Get Win At Scioto, 62-44

In practically a re-match of their 1959 gridiron battle, Saltcreek outlasted a hard charging and winging Scioto aggregation last night on the Buffalo court, 62-44.

Anything went under the basketballs which saw both teams compile a total of 43 turnovers—22 by Saltcreek and 21 by Scioto.

Neither team could hit with consistency as the Warriors finished the night with a 32.1 per cent from the field, notching 25 of 78 attempts.

Scioto fell below this average, connecting on 20 of 72 tries for 27.8 per cent. Scioto never got into high gear and it took Saltcreek until the last period to grind its attack into efficient operation.

THE INABILITY of the Warriors to work the ball into the corners to Denny Valentine and Charles Spangler nearly proved to be Saltcreek's downfall.

The miniature Scioto gymnasium uses the walls as the out-of-bounds lines. The narrowness of the floor forced both teams to concentrate on driving down or feeding the middle, which was almost impossible as both teams bottled up the pivot area.

It took Saltcreek three quarters to finally make Scioto come out after the ball, freeing the middle and sides for Spangler to wing away at the bucket.

The game started on a fast note and didn't let up until the final whistle. The Warriors tallied seven straight points before Dick Kaiser broke the ice for Scioto with a front court jump shot.

Saltcreek mounted the score to 10-2 behind the first quarter seven-point scoring of Roger Clarke who hit from the back court on one-handed jump shots.

At this point Scioto rallied as Roy Sanders dropped in two field goals and a free throw to narrow the score to one point at the quarter mark, 15-14.

GEORGE CLIFTON kept Saltcreek in the game in the second stanza, tallying six consecutive points on two field goals and two charity tosses and then Scioto sliced into the Warrior margin, taking its only lead late in the period, 28-27.

Hart tipped-in a rebound and made it a three-point play on a free throw, followed by Valentine's charity toss and Spangler's drive-in to hold a 32-27 margin at intermission.

The Buffaloes held Saltcreek fairly even during the third period but their sudden and overvaluing downfall came in the final stanza.

The Warriors notched 15 straight points before Scioto's Sanders managed to drive for a field goal with 2:15 left on the clock.

Spangler's nine-point spurge in the final quarter gave him scoring honors for the evening with 20. Sanders led Scioto with 17 markers.

Four men entered the double-figure column for the Warriors as Clarke, Clifton and Hart tallied 11

East Cagers Win All-Pro Star Game

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—"I think we had more pride and determination, and someone gave us a lift every time we needed it."

That was Coach Red Auerbach's view of the East's 125-115 victory over the West Friday night in the annual National Basketball Assn. All-Star Game.

"First it was Bill Sharman, then (Richie) Guerin, and finally (Tom) Gola who came through when the game was getting uncomfortable," Auerbach said.

Ed Macauley of St. Louis, the West coach, named the same three players as the men who pulled it out for the East.

But for consistency and over-all performance the East had one big man, rookie Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain who won the most valuable player award by scoring 23 points, getting 25 rebounds, and blocking 4 shots. He played only 30 minutes.

Sharman, a back-court star for Boston, sent the East into a permanent lead in the second quarter when he hit on five of his one-hand jump shots.

After the half-time intermission with the East ahead 58-51, Guerin of New York scored 8 quick points while spurring the East to a 19-point lead. Then the West cut the lead to 6 points. Late in the third quarter Gola got hot, stealing the ball twice and sinking his next five shots to clinch it.

Bronto Five Edges Deers

Myers Nets 29 In Thriller

Ashville had the fight of its life last night as host Williamsport put up a great battle before falling to the Brontos Tom Rathburn, Bobby Hoover and company, 62-54.

The Deers were within three points of Ashville, 52-50, with 1 1/2 minutes left in the contest, but couldn't halt the passing off of Hoover and the light-fingered touch of Rathburn.

Attempting to play Ashville's brand of race-horse ball in the early moments of the game, Williamsport fell behind 18-9 at the first quarter mark although stalling the last 2 1/2 minutes.

Settling down and moving Pickaway County's leading scorer, David Myers, to the outside, away from the defending of Rathburn and Hoover, the Deers made a game of it.

MYERS FINISHED the night with 29 points for scoring honors, followed by Hoover's 24 and Rathburn's 18. Myers racked up 22 of his points in the second half from all over the floor.

Hoover and Rathburn concentrated their scoring under the buckets. Ashville completed the game with a 42 per cent field goal average, connecting on 26 of 62.

Williamsport came back with 20 of 66 for 30 per cent. The Deers bested Ashville at the foul line, hitting 14 of 18 for 77 per cent while the Brontos netted 10 of 21 for 47 per cent.

David Humphrey was the thorn in the Bronto side as he swished eight of his 11 points in the final quarter, loosening up the Ashville defenses underneath and sending Myers into the open.

This was the Deers' sixth loss, all under 12 points. They have won nine. Ashville raised its slate to 12-2 and maintained its county league lead with a perfect 6-0 place. The Deers fell into a fourth place tie with Saltcreek with 4-1 slates.

Ashville won the reserve tilt, 37-44, for its seventh victory against five losses. Williamsport boasts an 8-5 record.

Three H's Lead Walnut Over Monroe

Walnut retained runner-up position in the Pickaway County League race with a convincing 79-49 victory over host Monroe last night.

Behind the triple threat scoring of the three "H's", the Tigers moved to a 16-10 first period score and never were headed.

Gary Hoover took scoring honors for the evening with 23 points, closely followed by Tom Harber's 19 and Bill Hoover's 21. Steve Fullen led Monroe with 21 points from the pivot position.

Walnut is now 5-1 league play to hold a second place tie with Darby. Overall it is 7-4. Monroe remains in a four-way tie for seventh place and stands 3-12 on the year.

Monroe grabbed the consolation contest, 45-38, for its sixth victory against seven defeats. Walnut was losing its eighth compared to one win.

Ross County's leading scorer, Sonny Harrison, led his Centralia quintet to a 63-50 win last night over invading Buckskin.

Harrison netted 11 of 18 field goal attempts for 61 per cent, plus six free throws, for 28 points as the Bulldogs evened their season slate at 7-7.

Top man for Buckskin was Webb with 14 points followed by Benner with 13. Though smaller in size, Centralia's Harrison and Haynes grabbed 18 and 15 rebounds respectively.

Centralia hit 28 of 56 from the floor for a 50 per cent shooting average. Buckskin downed the Bulldog junior varsity, 30-24. It was Centralia's third loss against nine wins.

Tiger Loss at Wilmington Brings 3-Way Tie Again

Wilmington played the role of giant killer for the second week in a row by twisting the tail of the visiting Circleville Tigers last night, 54-46.

The Hurricane win again spoiled the South Central Ohio League standings into a three-way deadlock for the second time this season between Circleville, Wilmington and Greenville, each with 6-2 records.

Greenfield tripped visiting Franklin Heights last night, 73-53, to stay in the thick of the title fight. Last week Wilmington bounced Greenfield 68-63.

Circleville's trip to Wilmington hit a sour note in the third quarter when the locals tallied only eight points compared to 19 for the Hurricane. Six of the enemy points came in rapid succession with only 20 seconds left in the period.

THE TIGERS fought back game but could not overcome a 43-25 deficit which hung like a heavy cloud as the third canto came to an end. The CHS force spurred to life in the final chapter to score 21 points and hold Wilmington to 11, but the curtain closed too soon for the 11th hour rally.

The Red and Black Bengals roared into the Clinton County city with a lot at stake. They saw their five 6-1 SCO record suddenly dip to 6-2. The Hurricane cagers also realized the importance of the test, for they were fighting to keep their championship hopes alive.

Both teams played it cautious in the opening period hoping to find a possible weakness. The quarter ended with Wilmington leading, 5-4.

Action reached a quicker pace in the second quarter with the hosts scoring 15 points and Circleville 11 to give the Hurricane a 24-17 halftime advantage.

Disaster struck in the third frame as Wilmington went on its scoring binge. Main thorn in the side was Keith Gregory who tallied 10 of his team's 19 points for the quarter. Most of his success was on a deadly one-hander from the side.

Several reasons seemed to play a part in the Circleville defeat. For one the Tigers were able to collect only 20 of 38 chances at the foul line.

ANOTHER obstacle presented itself in the way of turnovers on bad passes, bobbles, walking and other infractions. The locals handed the ball over 12 times in the first half and the number was about the same in the second two quarters.

However, all was not dark for the Tigers. Bob Shadley led all scoring for the evening with 13 points. Jake Bailey turned in 11 markers and added his usual brand of fiery play from the floor.

Larry Hannahs tipped the scales with 10 points and came through with some solid rebounding. Dave Hicks connected on one of his few tries from the field and made good on five free throws for seven points.

Linden Gibson potted three of four foul tosses and Sam Weiler did his share of work underneath the buckets.

For Wilmington it was a measure of revenge for the 70-59 defeat suffered here Jan. 8. The Hurricane displayed some sharp ballhandling and accurate shooting to retain its advanced billing as a team tough

Kingston Falls to Frankfort

Unable to stop the sensational play of Carvel Simmons, Kingston went down to its sixth defeat at the hands of host Frankfort, 75-67, last night.

Although screened away from the bucket, Simmons put on quite a dazzling outside shooting spree to tally 33 points and completely wreck any Redskins hopes of an upset.

Frankfort got the edge on Kingston in the initial stanza, 24-12, from which the Redskins never recovered. They were down 21 points in the second period and rallied to within two points late in the second period and rallied to within two points late in the fourth period before Frankfort capitalized on a one-and-one situation and stalled out the battle.

Three men were tied with 19 points each. They were Kingston's David Nogle and Bill Carmean and Frankfort's Hamman. Kingston hit 28 of 84 field goal attempts for 33 per cent while Frankfort retaliated with 28 of 61 for 46 per cent.

The Redskins are now 8-6 overall while Frankfort sports a 9-2 record. Frankfort won the reserve game, 52-28, handing the Redskins their sixth loss against a like number of wins.

to beat on the home floor. The Quaker City cagers went into a quick lead on jump shots by Walt Simkins and Dwight Wallace. Shadley opened scoring for CHS a few seconds later but Wilmington surged ahead on two fast-break scores by Wallace.

DETERMINED to unseat at the first place Tigers, the hosts held onto their narrow early stage lead behind the efforts of Marvin and Keith Gregory, Jim Kidd, Simkins and Wallace.

With the second quarter ticking away, Bailey suddenly found the range for seven straight points to narrow the Hurricane lead to 16-13. It was the closest Circleville came to deadlocking the score for the remainder of the game.

Bailey swished a long one to start the third quarter and cut Wilmington's lead to 24-19. Keith Gregory and Wallace were quick to retaliate with buckets for the hosts.

SHADLEY'S jump shot and Hannahs' two buckets from underneath were the best Circleville could do for the rest of the disastrous third quarter.

The last quarter surge saw Shadley collect 19 of the 21 points. The Tigers garnered 11 of their total at the foul line, after having trouble hitting the charities early in the game.

Another factor in the Tiger defeat was shooting from the field. The locals netted 13 of 47 tries for a low 27.6 per cent. Wilmington chalked a sizzling 45.4 per cent on 24 of 53. The hosts made six fouls and missed nine.

Darby Downs Pirates, 84-44; Walters and Vance Pave Way

Not to be counted out of the Pickaway County League race, Darby last night bounced invading Pickaway, 84-44, to retain a share of second place with Walnut.

Having no mercy on the inexperienced Pirates, the Trojans rolled to win No. 7 against five losses, while Pickaway dropped contest No. 13 compared to a lone victory.

Tommy Walters led the Darby assault with 25 points on deadly one-handed jump shots from all

Amanda Wins Over Carroll

The up-and-coming Amanda Aces downed host Carroll last night in a Fairfield County League battle, 55-46.

The well-played contest saw the scored tied and the lead change hands many times before Amanda ran away with the ball game in the final quarter, after holding a 40-40 tie at the third period mark.

The Aces were led by Bill Brown's 18 points on slick side-court shooting. Teammate Roger Cussett followed with 16 points. Dick Davis led the Bulldogs with 13 points, scoring 19 in the initial quarter before cut off by Amanda defenses.

Amanda superintendent, Robert Schmidt, stood in for coach, Donald LaBonte, who was down with illness. A total of 17 fouls were called seven on Amanda and 10 against Carroll.

The Aces sport a 4-3 league record and are 7-5 overall. Carroll swept the reserve meet, 34-24.

Stoutsville, Darby Play Tonight

The Darby - Stoutsville basketball game will start at 7 p. m. today in the Pickaway County Fairgrounds' Coliseum, not at 2 p. m. as incorrectly stated in yesterday's Herald.

The Pickaway - Union, originally slated for 7 p. m. today at Pickaway, has been cancelled.

structed a 28-10 first half lead, then breezed in with the victory. John Jones took scoring honors for the Kittens with 12 points. Cleson Thomas aided with seven and Roger Roebuck had six.

Edwards and Roberts were high for Wilmington with 13 each.

Circleville takes a rest from grueling league play with a trip to Chillicothe tonight for a return engagement with the strong Cavaliers. The Ross Countians took the first meeting here, 34-41.

Pickerington Tops Indians

Stoutsville sunk lower in the Fairfield County League race last night as host Pickerington handed the Indians a 57-48 defeat.

It was Stoutsville's third loss and second in a row after running up 10 victories. Pick to win was never headed after taking an early lead in the second period. The score was tied at the first period mark, 15-15.

Pickerington held a 32-27 halftime advantage and soared to a 45-33 three-quarter lead. The Indians rallied in the final period, but fell short of gaining the win.

Steve Strome, Picktown's great center, led all scorers with 24 points from the key slot. Bobby Sells was high man for Stoutsville with 13 points. Pickerington is now 12-2 on the season.

The Picktown Tigers made it a double win by dumping the Indians reserve unit, 45-26. It was Stoutsville's sixth loss against five wins.

8th Grade Suffers Wilmington Loss

Circleville's 8th grade cage squad dropped a thrilling 31-30 test with Wilmington here Thursday.

Wilmington led in the early stage, but the locals came back in the final quarter to knot the count and then take a lead with only seconds remaining.

The winners pulled the game out with two last-ditch foul shots. Dave Dennis led local scoring with eight points. Rudd had seven. Rusty Merker was high for Wilmington with 10.

Big 'O' Faces Scoring Test

Cincy, Duquesne Due For Battle Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cincinnati's Bearcats, with Oscar Robertson aiming for the first of two big records he should nail within the next 10 days, play at Duquesne tonight in a bid to hold their ranking as the country's best college basketball team over overhauling Bradley.

It may take the Big O at his point-making best to overcome the renewed credentials tossed at the Bearcats by second-ranked Bradley in the Braves' 86-63 rout of tough Notre Dame at Chicago Stadium Friday night.

Robertson's first target is the major college three-year scoring record of 2,538 points set by Frank Selvy of Furman in 1954. Oscar needs 46 to set a new one.

At the same time, All-America Oscar is just 95 points away from breaking the all-time career scoring mark for major college players of 2,567 points set in four seasons by Wake Forest's Dickie Hemric in 1955.

After tonight, Cincinnati plays The Citadel at Cincinnati Jan. 29 and Drake at Cincinnati Feb. 1. According to Robertson's current pace of 37.8 points a game, he should break the Selvy record either tonight or next Friday against The Citadel, and the Hemric mark against Drake.

Tied in with Robertson's individual performances is the hot duel between Cincinnati and Bradley, both of the Missouri Valley Conference, for the No. 1 national ranking.

Both have a 13-1 record with a victory and a loss to the other. The Bearcats spilled Bradley at Cincinnati 86-71 in December before Bradley rocketed up to the No. 2 ranking with a 91-90 victory at its Peoria, Ill., court last Saturday.

Seventh-ranked Utah, the only other top 10 team in action, kept on Utah State's heels in the Skyline Conference race with a 76-69 victory over Brigham Young. It gave the Utes a 4-1 Skyline mark and a 14-2 overall record.

Driveways Should Be Constructed In Five Phases
1. Excavation
2. Crushed stone sub-base 3" Thick
3. Crushed Stone Base Course 4" Thick
4. Water-proofed Aggregate base course 2 1/2" Thick
5. Hot Mix Surface Course 1 1/2" Thick
First excavate 11" deep. Next at once place 3" Course of crushed stone. This will allow settling and can be added to, as weak area develops. Always rake high spots into low area as settling takes place. In April base course aggregate should be laid and rolled. Then Black Top base Material Item 4 can be placed. Item 3 should be placed in 6 to 12 Months after Item 4. This allows time for settling so surface will not settle and be necessary to patch or leave water puddles.
WE FURTHER SUGGEST
This is the time of the year to apply crushed stone on your existing driveway to correct soft and low areas, for your Hot Mix Drive next summer.

When Building Your New Home
Driveways Should Be Constructed In Five Phases
1. Excavation
2. Crushed stone sub-base 3" Thick
3. Crushed Stone Base Course 4" Thick
4. Water-proofed Aggregate base course 2 1/2" Thick
5. Hot Mix Surface Course 1 1/2" Thick

First excavate 11" deep. Next at once place 3" Course of crushed stone. This will allow settling and can be added to, as weak area develops. Always rake high spots into low area as settling takes place. In April base course aggregate should be laid and rolled. Then Black Top base Material Item 4 can be placed. Item 5 should be placed in 6 to 12 Months after Item 4. This allows time for settling so surface will not settle and be necessary to patch or leave water puddles.

WE FURTHER SUGGEST
This is the time of the year to apply crushed stone on your existing driveway to correct soft and low areas, for your Hot Mix Drive next summer.

Sugar Ray Sours As Pender Wins

BOSTON (AP)—Paul Pender, an articulate ex-fireman who denounces the evils of boxing and three times quit the ring, today rules as the world middleweight champion—limited version.

Pender took the final trappings off Sugar Ray Robinson in a 15-round split decision Friday night after the National Boxing Assn. earlier had stripped the veteran

New Yorker of his crown in 46 states.

The two camps differed as to the site of the rematch, written into the contract with a 90-day limit, should Pender win.

Robinson's manager, George Gainford, spoke forcefully of his conviction that Sugar Ray had won.

"We'll have the return in New York if Madison Square Garden will have it," he added. "They won the title here, and I don't think it's fair for them to have the return here too."

Naturally, Pender, 29, a resident of suburban Brookline, prefers his home grounds but added: "I'm ready for him, definitely, any time, any place."

His title is recognized only in Massachusetts and New York.

While the 10,608 Boston Garden fans knew Pender in his moment of triumph, many a member of the national television audience wanted to know who was this brash upstart who unseated the ageless Sugar Ray.

Well-spoken enough to be mistaken for a young business executive, Pender is given away by a twice-broken nose plus gnarled hands which shattered on him five years ago. It happened during a battle with current NBA-recognized champ Gene Fullmer, costing him the decision and almost ending his fistic pursuits.

Long convinced professional boxing has no attraction but the dollar, Pender prepared for the Robinson match with the oath: "This definitely is my last comeback."

After more than a decade in the pro ranks, Paul had a good pay night. His share was 20 per cent of the $85,010 gate and 15 per cent of the $75,000 TV money. Robinson picked up 42½ per cent of the gate plus 75 per cent of the TV take.

Cautiously jabbing and moving away from Robinson, 39, in the early stages Friday night, Pender made Sugar miss long right hands labeled kayo, then became more forceful in the late stages. He landed effectively on Robinson's head while protecting his own.

Robinson landed his most solid blows to Pender's body.

Judges Joe Santoro and John Norton voted 147-138 and 148-142 in favor of Pender on the 10-point must system. Referee Joe Zupatas called it Robinson, 146-142.

Big Ten Cage Rankings May Be Shuffled

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio State, Iowa and Minnesota—the only teams with fewer than two losses in the Big Ten basketball race—will try their luck on foreign courts today.

Ohio State (3-0) goes to Purdue (2-2) where the Buckeyes will be faced with their first conference game away from home. The game promises to be a scoring battle between two of the league's better sophomores.

Terry Dischinger of Purdue leads the Big Ten in scoring but OSU rookie Jerry Lucas is not too far behind the Boilermaker newcomer. This is a big game for the Buckeyes, who could lay plans for the Big Ten title by proving they can win away from home.

Iowa (4-1) will be at Michigan State (2-2). Iowa's only loss was at Minnesota early in the season by the Hawkeyes made up for that by scoring a triumph at Wisconsin.

The Hawkeyes could move into the conference lead by defeating Michigan State should Ohio State fall at Purdue.

Minnesota (3-1) is at Northwestern (2-2) and has won away from home. The Gophers trounced Michigan at Ann Arbor last week but previously lost to Illinois at Illinois.

Minnesota could take over the conference lead by defeating Northwestern tonight should both Iowa and Ohio State lose.

The Iowa-Michigan State game is a regionally televised matinee. Conference activity will be virtually at a standstill until next Saturday, the only game coming Monday when Minnesota is at Iowa Monday.

Sugar Ray Sours Astender Wins

BOSTON (AP)—Paul Pender, an articulate ex-fireman who denounces the evils of boxing and three times quit the ring, today rules as the world middleweight champion—limited version.

Pender took the final trappings off Sugar Ray Robinson in a 15-round split decision Friday night after the National Boxing Assn. earlier had stripped the veteran

New Yorker of his crown in 46 states.

The two camps differed as to the site of the rematch, written into the contract with a 90-day limit, should Pender win.

Robinson's manager, George Gainford, spoke forcefully of his conviction that Sugar Ray had won.

"We'll have the return in New York if Madison Square Garden will have it," he added. "They won the title here, and I don't think it's fair for them to have the return here too."

Naturally, Pender, 29, a resident of suburban Brookline, prefers his home grounds but added: "I'm ready for him, definitely, any time, any place."

His title is recognized only in Massachusetts and New York. While the 10,608 Boston Garden fans knew Pender in his moment of triumph, many a member of the national television audience wanted to know who was this brash upstart who unseated the ageless Sugar Ray.

Well-spoken enough to be mistaken for a young business executive, Pender is given away by a twice-broken nose plus gnarled hands which shattered on him five years ago. It happened during a battle with current NBA-recognition champ Gene Fullmer, costing him the decision and almost ending his fistic pursuits.

Long convinced professional boxing has no attraction but the dollar, Pender prepared for the Robinson match with the oath: "This definitely is my last comeback."

After more than a decade in the pro ranks, Paul had a good pay night. His share was 20 per cent of the $85,010 gate and 15 per cent of the $75,000 TV money. Robinson picked up 42½ per cent of the gate plus 75 per cent of the TV take.

Cautiously jabbing and moving away from Robinson, 39, in the early stages Friday night, Pender made Sugar miss long right hands labeled kayo, then became more forceful in the late stages. He landed effectively on Robinson's head while protecting his own.

Robinson landed his most solid blows to Pender's body.

Judges Joe Santoro and John Norton voted 147-138 and 148-142 in favor of Pender on the 10-point must system. Referee Joe Zupatas called it Robinson, 146-142.

One Countian Seeks Permit

Hoffman Applicant; Openings Available

Pickaway County has one application for a permit to sell wine and spirituous liquor on its premises, according to the Ohio Department of Liquor Control today.

Ralph F. Hoffman, owner of Hoffman's Grill, 618 S. Maplewood Ave., is the only applicant for a liquor permit in the entire county, although several openings are available.

As of January 4 there were permits available for the sale of beer on and off premises in Ashville, one; Circleville, five; Commercial Point, one; Darbyville, one; New Holland, one; and Orient, one; South Bloomfield, two; Tarlton, one, and in the unincorporated area of the county, five.

SALE OF MALT liquor, wine and bottled cocktails on and off premises: Ashville, two; Commercial Point, one; Darbyville, one; New Holland, three; Orient, one; South Bloomfield, two; Tarlton, one; Williamsport, one, and county, seven. Sale of wine and spirituous liquor on premises:

Commercial Point, one; Darbyville, one; Orient, one; Tarlton, one, and county, four. Sale by private clubs to their own members consumption:

Ashville, one; Commercial Point, one; Darbyville, one; Orient, one; South Bloomfield, one; Tarlton, one, and the county, seven. Sale of beer, malt liquor and spirituous liquor for on premises consumption until 2:30 a. m. and beer, malt and liquor and wine for off premises consumption:

Commercial Point, one; Darbyville, one; Orient, one; Tarlton, one, and county, six.

The purpose of the list is to make public the names of applicants for various types of retail permits in the order in which they filed applications. In the past, some applicants were led to believe, by certain unscrupulous operators, that permit issuance could be "extended" by payment of a fee to these operators.

IN MANY CASES, the permit involved was about to be issued in a normal and legal manner. Now, an applicant need only consult the list to see his position of priority.

The list shows the number of each of five types of permits outstanding in the incorporated and unincorporated areas of each county, the number allowed under statutory and board of liquor control quotas and the number of new permits that can be issued.

Applicants are shown by name in the order in which their applications were filed and can be considered for possible issuance.

Inheritance Taxes Reach $129,336,138

Ohio's share of the state inheritance tax (50 per cent) has poured $129,336,138 into the state's coffers during the time the tax has been collected, a search of the records of State Auditor James A. Rhodes disclosed today.

Enacted by the legislature in 1919, the tax produced only $463,144 in 1920—the first year of collection—in contrast to the collections of $8,743,460 during the last fiscal year, and of the peak year 1958 when receipts from this tax touched $9,141,207.

During the last ten years, the tax produced $60,193,602, or 46.5 per cent of the entire collections since 1919. This is an average of slightly more than six million dollars per year as compared with only three million dollars per year for the 40-year span, Rhodes said.

When placed upon the statute books, the law was expected to produce between five and ten million dollars per year.

Postal Aides Checking on Chain Letters

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)—Post office inspectors are checking the local post office to see if there has been any violation of mailing regulations in connection with a government bond chain letter transaction.

Attempts to keep the system alive by substituting money orders were reported being made in this Warren County town. The change followed a Federal Reserve Bank notice issued to discourage sale of bonds for such purpose.

Reports are current that several hundred persons in Franklin, Middletown and surrounding areas had participated in the bond letter system. It spread here more than a month ago from a West Virginia source, according to the reports.

A person joining the chain is required to make an investment of $75 but stands to gain considerably more than that if the chain is kept unbroken.

Pickaway Inheritance Taxes Drop

Inheritance taxes paid in Ohio last year, totaling $18,105,683, set an all-time record for the 40 years that this tax has been in effect, according to State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

The total collection was $439,000 higher than the amount paid the preceding year. As usual Cuyahoga county led all counties of the state in the amount of inheritance taxes collected. Out of each $100 taken in, $22 came from Cuyahoga county. Total collections in the county were $4,175,320.

Hamilton county was next with $2,961,867, followed by Franklin, $1,345,235; Lucas $925,294; Montgomery, $765,754; Stark, $689,673 and Summit, $673,814.

ONE-HALF of the inheritance tax goes to the taxing district in which it originates. The other half goes to the state after deducting certain fees allowed the offices of the county auditor and the county treasurer. These fees retained by the counties in 1959 amounted to $545,676.

Inheritance taxes collected in Pickaway County last year totaled $82,460.65 compared to the 1958 tax collections of $125,354.78.

County Receives Gasoline Tax Distribution

The first distribution of gasoline tax money in 1960 was made Wednesday by State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Amounting to $2,823,200, the distribution will mean $20,000 for each county in the state, and $800 for each of the 1329 townships.

The township road money went to county auditors for redistribution to township clerks.

The first distribution of gasoline tax money to cities and villages will be made in February, at the same time that the monthly distribution is sent to counties and townships.

New Drug May Curb Lung Cancer

LONDON (AP)—Three doctors working in a British hospital reported today they have successfully treated victims of advanced lung cancer with a new drug developed from mustard gas.

A medical team led by Scotsman Dr. Gordon Jack used the drug, tretamine, on 43 apparently hopeless cases at Manchester's Baguley Hospital.

But for tretamine most of them would have been dead within three months, they claim.

Writing in the medical magazine Lancet, the doctors report that of 43 cases, 30 showed improvement.

In 10 of these tumor growth was halted and reduced. Four cases showed even more startling results.

After a month of treatment, X-rays showed the lung tumors had completely shrunk and the chests had returned to normal.

The doctors, Irishman Leslie Doyle, Indian M. Palejwalla and Jack, emphasized that their findings are highly experimental.

Pastors' Convention To Start Tomorrow

Nearly two thousand pastors from every part of Ohio are expected to assemble in Columbus for the 41st annual Ohio Pastor's Convention at the Veterans Memorial Building, starting tomorrow through Wednesday. "A Faith Relevant to a World of Change and Conflict" will be the Convention theme. Speakers will include Bishop Newell S. Booth of Africa and Dr. Bryan de Kretser of Ceylon, both outstanding authorities on their parts of the world, as well as a group of great leaders from our own nation.

The Westminster Choir of Princeton, New Jersey, the Choir of the United Theological Seminary, Dayton, and the Men's Glee Club, Ohio State University, will sing on successive evenings.

The Ohio Pastors' Convention is sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches representing 15 major Protestant denominations in Ohio. Dr. Howard J. Brown, pastor of the Church of the Savior (Methodist), Cleveland Heights, is Chairman of the Convention. The Rev. John M. Wilson, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, will serve as convention director.

The lowest official temperature ever recorded in San Juan, Puerto Rico, was 62 degrees.

Dem Hopefuls To Show Wares

Kennedy, Johnson Appear Leading Pack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) appeared to be leading the pack as Democratic presidential hopefuls prepared to display their political wares tonight.

Along with Kennedy and Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, contributors to a $100-a-plate dinner get a chance to hear from Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo).

Kennedy and Humphrey are announced candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination. Johnson and Symington have not formally thrown their hats into the ring.

Most Democratic National Committee members who stayed over after formal sessions Friday to continue to size up prospective presidential nominees are confident they can win in November. But they are up in the air over the composition of the ticket to oppose Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the expected GOP nominee.

In a cross-section of conflicting opinion, however, it seemed evident that Kennedy is regarded by the committee members—all of whom will be delegates to the Los Angeles convention—as one of the top contenders at this time.

But Kennedy apparently was being challenged by a swift rise in strength by Johnson, if the expressions of the committee members were indicative. Johnson seemed to have most of the Southern support on which Kennedy and Symington were counting to help lift their chances for the nomination.

Cincy Supermarket Is Robbed of $1,300

CINCINNATI (AP) — A young gunman took about $1,300 from a supermarket here Friday, but fled empty-handed from another market, police reported. Investigators said the stocky bandit forced Ed Leininger, 53, an Albers chain store manager, to empty money from the store safe in a paper bag. The gunman fled but his try to duplicate the robbery at a Kroger Co. store backfired because the manager was away from the store.

Swedish automobile makers are planning to triple their production of small cars in the next five years.

Man in Seattle Vows Nun In Assam To Get Her Miracle

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Atop a waterless hill in the tiger-infested jungles of Assam in northeast India, Sister Pauline prays for a small miracle.

And here in Seattle, half a world away, W. C. Carter vows that the brave jungle nun will have her heart's desire.

Sister Pauline is praying for the small miracle for St. Mary Mazzarello's Orphanage and Convent. She is its Sister Superior. Her orphans are waifs skimmed from the overburden of India's population. Many of them she found abandoned by starving parents.

"It has been a long cherished dream of mine to provide the children in the orphanage with running water by means of a generator and pump," Sister Pauline writes Betty Cotton of Seattle.

"The heavy expenditure of such an enterprise has always caused me to brush aside the idea and leave our tiny tots to go and draw water from a stream down a valley a few furlongs away.

"The path leading down is very, very steep and it is a pitiful sight to see our children going down all that way carrying empty vessels and coming up again in loss of breath. But most of all the place is very unsafe, and since of late wild animals have been seen roaming about in broad daylight, I feel I cannot endanger the life of my charges.

Mrs. Cotton, a stenographer, has never met Sister Pauline but the two have corresponded since the lonely nun wrote her some time ago.

Mrs. Cotton had sent small sums from time to time to St. Mary Mazzarello's Orphanage, via Jowal Post Office, Assam, India, but Sister Pauline's need for a small miracle was beyond her resources.

She showed the latest letter to Carter, an executive with the Labor News, who vowed to provide the pump and generator.

He hopes to enlist the aid of labor organizations throughout the state.

The small miracle is on its way.

Pickaway Inheritance Taxes Drop

Inheritance taxes paid in Ohio last year, totaling $18,105,683, set an all-time record for the 40 years that this tax has been in effect, according to State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

The total collection was $439,000 higher than the amount paid the preceding year. As usual Cuyahoga county led all counties of the state in the amount of inheritance taxes collected. Out of each $100 taken in, $22 came from Cuyahoga county. Total collections in the county were $4,175,320.

Hamilton county was next with $2,961,867, followed by Franklin, $1,345,235; Lucas $925,294; Montgomery, $765,754; Stark, $689,673 and Summit, $673,814.

ONE-HALF of the inheritance tax goes to the taxing district in which it originates. The other half goes to the state after deducting certain fees allowed the offices of the county auditor and the county treasurer. These fees retained by the counties in 1959 amounted to $545,676.

Inheritance taxes collected in Pickaway County last year totaled $82,460.65 compared to the 1958 tax collections of $125,354.78.

County Receives Gasoline Tax Distribution

The first distribution of gasoline tax money in 1960 was made Wednesday by State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

Amounting to $2,823,200, the distribution will mean $20,900 for each county in the state, and $800 for each of the 1329 townships.

The township road money went to county auditors for redistribution to township clerks.

The first distribution of gasoline tax money to cities and villages will be made in February, at the same time that the monthly distribution is sent to counties and townships.

New Drug May Curb Lung Cancer

LONDON (AP)—Three doctors working in a British hospital reported today they have successfully treated victims of advanced lung cancer with a new drug developed from mustard gas.

A medical team led by Scotsman Dr. Gordon Jack used the drug, tretamine, on 43 apparently hopeless cases at Manchester's Baguley Hospital.

But for tretamine most of them would have been dead within three months, they claim.

Writing in the medical magazine Lancet, the doctors report that of 43 cases, 30 showed improvement.

In 10 of these tumor growth was halted and reduced. Four cases showed even more startling results.

After a month of treatment, X-rays showed the lung tumors had completely shrunk and the chests had returned to normal.

The doctors, Irishman Leslie Doyle, Indian M. Palejwalla and Jack, emphasized that their findings are highly experimental.

Pastors' Convention To Start Tomorrow

Nearly two thousand pastors from every part of Ohio are expected to assemble in Columbus for the 41st annual Ohio Pastor's Convention at the Veterans Memorial Building, starting tomorrow through Wednesday. "A Faith Relevant to a World of Change and Conflict" will be the Convention theme. Speakers will include Bishop Newell S. Booth of Africa and Dr. Bryan de Kretser of Ceylon, both outstanding authorities on their parts of the world, as well as a group of great leaders from our own nation.

The Westminster Choir of Princeton, New Jersey, the Choir of the United Theological Seminary, Dayton, and the Men's Glee Club, Ohio State University, will sing on successive evenings.

The Ohio Pastors' Convention is sponsored by the Ohio Council of Churches representing 15 major Protestant denominations in Ohio. Dr. Howard J. Brown, pastor of the Church of the Savior (Methodist), Cleveland Heights, is Chairman of the Convention. The Rev. John M. Wilson, executive secretary of the Ohio Council of Churches, will serve as convention director.

The lowest official temperature ever recorded in San Juan, Puerto Rico, was 62 degrees.

Kennedy, Johnson Appear Leading Pack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) appeared to be leading the pack as Democratic presidential hopefuls prepared to display their political wares tonight.

Along with Kennedy and Johnson, the Senate's Democratic leader, contributors to a $100-a-plate dinner get a chance to hear from Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo).

Kennedy and Humphrey are announced candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination. Johnson and Symington have not formally thrown their hats into the ring.

Most Democratic National Committee members who stayed over after formal sessions Friday to continue to size up prospective presidential nominees are confident they can win in November. But they are up in the air over the composition of the ticket to oppose Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the expected GOP nominee.

In a cross-section of conflicting opinion, however, it seemed evident that Kennedy is regarded by the committee members—all of whom will be delegates to the Los Angeles convention—as one of the top contenders at this time.

But Kennedy apparently was being challenged by a swift rise in strength by Johnson, if the expressions of the committee members were indicative. Johnson seemed to have most of the Southern support on which Kennedy and Symington were counting to help lift their chances for the nomination.

Cincy Supermarket Is Robbed of $1,300

CINCINNATI (AP) — A young gunman took about $1,300 from a supermarket here Friday, but fled empty-handed from another market, police reported. Investigators said the stocky bandit forced Ed Leininger, 53, an Albers chain store manager, to empty money from the store safe in a paper bag. The gunman fled but his try to duplicate the robbery at a Kroger Co. store backfired because the manager was away from the store.

Swedish automobile makers are planning to triple their production of small cars in the next five years.

Man in Seattle Vows Nun In Assam To Get Her Miracle

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Atop a waterless hill in the tiger-infested jungles of Assam in northeast India, Sister Pauline prays for a small miracle.

And here in Seattle, half a world away, W. C. Carter vows that the brave jungle nun will have her heart's desire.

Sister Pauline is praying for the small miracle for St. Mary Mazzarello's Orphanage and Convent. She is its Sister Superior. Her orphans are waifs skimmed from the overburden of India's population. Many of them she found abandoned by starving parents.

"It has been a long cherished dream of mine to provide the children in the orphanage with running water by means of a generator and pump," Sister Pauline writes Betty Cotton of Seattle.

"The heavy expenditure of such an enterprise has always caused me to brush aside the idea and leave our tiny tots to go and draw water from a stream down a valley a few furlongs away.

"The path leading down is very, very steep and it is a pitiful sight to see our children going down all that way carrying empty vessels and coming up again in loss of breath. But most of all the place is very unsafe, and since of late wild animals have been seen roaming about in broad daylight, I feel I cannot endanger the life of my charges.

Mrs. Cotton, a stenographer, has never met Sister Pauline but the two have corresponded since the lonely nun wrote her some time ago.

Mrs. Cotton had sent small sums from time to time to St. Mary Mazzarello's Orphanage, via Jowai Post Office, Assam, India, but Sister Pauline's need for a small miracle was beyond her resources.

She showed the latest letter to Carter, an executive with the Labor News, who vowed to provide the pump and generator.

He hopes to enlist the aid of labor organizations throughout the state.

The small miracle is on its way.
